DISARMAMENT PLAN FAVORABLY RECEIVED BY NATIONS

Insurgents In Hotel In Dublin Captured By National Troops

Hamman's Hostelry Caught Fire and Garrison of Thirty Surrendered, Government Forces Report Successes Elsewhere In Ireland.

Dublin, July 4.—Hamman's Hotel, on Sackville Street, one of the main positions of the insurgents, was captured by the national army forces this afternoon. The hostelry, with its garrison of thirty men, was surrendered to the Free State troops after the building had taken fire.

London, July 4.—Three more buildings on Sackville Street, Dublin, were occupied by the Free State forces this afternoon after the structures had been heavily peppered with machine gun fire, says an Evening News dispatch.

It is unofficially reported that Countess Markiewicz and a few women snipers have been captured, their ammunition having run out.

Dublin, July 4.—"Millmount barracks in Drogheda is in flames and our troops are closing in," says a national army communique this afternoon.

The barracks referred to is the principal stronghold of the irregulars in North Leinster, situated on a hill and almost impossible to take by direct assault.

SMOKE BOMBS USED BY DUBLIN TROOPS

Dublin, July 4.—The national troops attacking the insurgents here to-day employed smoke bombs as a protection for bomb-throwers. Shielded by smoke bombs, national soldiers were able to get close to a number of buildings held by the republicans, hurling into them large numbers of hand grenades.

Armored cars again were in action to-day, pouring fire into the positions of the irregulars.

Since the fighting started at the Four Courts Building last Wednesday the number of casualties, including civilians, is estimated at more than 60 killed and 200 wounded.

The dimunition of the republican forces through desertions was indicated by the fact that they were no longer defending the whole position which they seized following the surrender of the Four Courts Building, but were concentrating their defence on a few points closely connected, necessity demanding that they pass from building to building through holes in the walls.

NATIONAL TROOPS REPORT GAINS

An official bulletin issued this morning indicated substantial progress in suppressing the revolt in the country districts. The bulletin read:

"In the midlands all important centres are held by national forces, including Athlone, Mullingar, Longford and Trim. At Tipperary, the irregulars have been driven from their barracks and from other positions at Nenagh. In Roscrea the irregulars were forced to abandon their posts, eight men with arms and ammunition being captured.

"In South Tipperary, the irregulars have evacuated the Killshelan and Cloghon barracks. Mid-Tipperary is controlled by the national army."

DROGHEDA SCENE OF FIGHT BETWEEN TWO IRISH SIDES

Belfast, July 4.—Fighting between the two Irish factions continued in Drogheda, according to messages received in Belfast, both sides using machine guns. The rails have been torn up on the railway between Drogheda and Dundalk and there is an extensive break in the railway at Kellystown.

ULSTERITES DENY CONSTABLES HELPED TO SEIZE BARRACKS

Dublin, July 4.—An official bulletin issued at noon to-day says the Glenfarn barracks at Leitrim, near the Ulster border, held by national army troops, was attacked simultaneously by Irish irregulars and Ulster specials from different positions.

"The small garrison stubbornly resisted," says the bulletin, "but eventually was forced to yield to the combined forces."

Belfast, July 4.—The Ulster constabulary headquarters this afternoon stated that the official Free State report saying Ulster special constabies had participated with Irish irregulars in the capture of the Glenfarn barracks from national army troops was absolutely untrue.

PLANES TAKEN TO DUBLIN AREA FROM ENGLAND

London, July 4.—Several fighting aircraft bearing the markings of the Irish Free State—green, white and red circles—flown by pilots belonging to Free State forces, left the Croydon aerodrome to-day for "the Dublin front," says The Evening News.

FINDS LUMBER BUSINESS BETTER

Head of Puget Sound Mill on Visit; Tourist Opportunities in Middle West

The lumber business throughout the central states is showing considerable improvement, due to building development, and the necessity to provide for the shortage of homes which has accumulated during war years. This is the view of W. D. Connor, President of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber and Timber Company, who has arrived on a periodical inspection of the Company's activities on the Island.

Mr. Connor reported condition much better during the last few months than for some time. He states that affairs have reached the point when building had to occupy attention. In moderate priced residences, there is no expectation that there will be a slackening of the demand.

As one of the largest employers of labor on the Southern part of Vancouver Island, Mr. Connor said the company was satisfied with the business offering here, and expressed the hope that there would be no check on the output of the local mill.

Tourist Business

As one who travels extensively throughout the United States, Mr Connor observed to The Times last evening that the states in which he is particularly interested, Michigan and Wisconsin, as well as neighboring

ZIONISTS HEARD PREMIER KING

Head of Canadian Ministry Addressed Ottawa Gathering

Ottawa, July 4.—(By Canadian Press)—Premier King addressed the delegates to the eighteenth annual conference of the Zionist Organization of Canada here to-day, uttering a message of encouragement and sympathy with the aspirations of the Jews the world over for a homeland of their own. The man without a country had lost what was best in citizenship, and love of homeland was one of the contributing factors to the highest and best in humanity, he said.

"I believe that what Great Britain says she will do, and she can be relied upon to do it in a big way," he declared amid enthusiastic applause from the gathering.

Mr. King said that one of the most satisfactory things about the efforts of the Jews to re-establish Palestine was that they were not trying to keep other races out of that country.

WOMAN DROWNED IN ENGLISH BAY

Vancouver, July 4.—While crossing English Bay in a launch with her husband and infant child this morning, Mrs. M. Peterson was drowned when she lost her balance and fell into the water. The child, who was with the mother, was rescued by its father. The body has not been recovered.

EFFORT TO AVERT STRIKE OF 400,000 U.S. RAILWAY MEN

Chicago, July 4.—After more than two hours' disgussion to-day with Chairman Ben W. Hooper and W. L. McMenimen, of the United States Railroad Labor Board, E. F. Grable, president of the Maintenance-of-Way Union, had not decided to cancel the threatened strike call to the 400,000 railroad workers of his organization. The conference adjourned for lunch with no settlement reached.

NELSON SCENE OF MINING CONVENTION

International Event Opened By Lieutenant-Governor

Dynamite Blasts Set Off as a Salute

Nelson, B. C., July 4.—Twenty-one staccato dynamite blasts sending their echoes reverberating among the hills as a fitting salute from a mining territory to an international mining convention and to the Lieut.-Governor of the Province, sharp at 10 this morning announced to the world the opening of the Fourth International Mining Convention, with many delegates present both from across the line and from many parts of Canada.

S. S. Fowler, chairman of the executive, introduced Lieutenant-Governor Walter C. Nichol, who in a graceful but forceful address opened the convention with references to the international bonds which mining forged between this Province and the neighboring states. He hoped another hundred years of peace between the sister countries would be recorded as pleasant and prosperous as the last.

Price Increases.

The Lieutenant-Governor declared there was every indication that the increase in the price of metals was permanent and not a temporary phase and predicted that the courage of the mining men of the Province would be rewarded, incidentally pointing out that British Columbia weathered the depression with less of a mining slump than other territories.

Minister Spoke.

Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, welcomed the convention on behalf of the Premier of British Columbia and his colleagues, emphasizing that the Province wanted both population and capital.

Mayor C. F. Hardy presented the convention with the keys of the city.

Messages.

A message from Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, was read, as well as a wire from the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

ADMINISTRATION CHANGES AT OTTAWA

National Defence Act Plan Carried Out

Branches Transferred to Department of Marine

Ottawa, July 4.—(Canadian Press)—The reorganization of the Naval Service Department to carry out the policy adopted by Parliament in the National Defence Act is proceeding rapidly. Five branches of the existing Naval Service Department already have been transferred to the Department of Marine and Fisheries, the control of these branches by the Marine Department dating from yesterday. The transfer of the naval service in its reorganized form to the Department of National Defence will not take place until the act authorizing the establishment of that Department has been proclaimed, and this will await the completion of the organization of the new Department, which is to include both the naval service and the militia.

Changed.

The branches of the naval service which have been transferred to the Department of Marine and Fisheries are the Fisheries protection service, the radio-telegraphs, the hydrographic survey, the tidal survey and the patrol of northern waters. The fisheries protection service includes six protective vessels, two on each coast and two on the Great Lakes.

Naval Force.

In carrying out the plans for the reduction of the naval force, the cruiser Aurora has already been laid up and the British members of her crew will sail for home Wednesday. The Canadian members of the crew are being transferred to the four vessels which are being retained in the Canadian naval service. These will include the two destroyers, Patriot and Patrician, and two patrol vessels for training purposes.

FRENCH WILL FIND WHEAT CROP BELOW AVERAGE

Paris, July 4.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day passed a law authorizing the Government to decree the utilization of a greater percentage of wheat in flour and the addition of substitutes in preparation for the expected shortage in this year's wheat crop. The crop is variously estimated at from 50,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels short of requirements.

WAGE READJUSTMENT.

Ottawa, July 4.—(Canadian Press).—A unanimous report has been received by the Minister of Labor from the board of conciliation which has been investigating the dispute between the City of Moose Jaw and its civic employees. The board consisted of W. E. Knowles, chairman; W. D McIntyre, city nominee, and R. H Chadwick, employees' representative The dispute had to do with wages and employment conditions.

KING SEES MILITIA DEPARTMENT ABOUT CLOVER POINT RANGE

Hon. J. H. King, Federal Minister of Public Works, is taking up with the Federal Department of Militia the advisability of closing the Clover Point shooting range here. Mayor Marchant to-day received information to this effect in a telegram from Dr. King.

Work On New Anacortes Ferry Will Start Soon

Preparations for building a new automobile ferry to accommodate the greatly-increased tourist travel between the Mainland and Vancouver Island were advanced at conferences between owners of the present Anacortes-Sidney ferries and local interests here last night. The new ferry, which will replace the present smaller boats and which will be capable of carrying at least forty automobiles, will be completed before the end of the present year and will operate with the beginning of the next tourist season, it was announced to-day. Meanwhile the present ferries will operate and their owners have arranged to continue a one-boat service during the entire year.

Capt. Payne, of the U. S. Shipping Board, and O. Lund, secretary-treasurer of the Todd Drydocks Company, owners of the present ferries, the Gleaner and the Harvester King, made their plans known to local commercial interests. They stated that naval architects already have commenced to draw the plans for the larger new ferry and added that details concerning the construction of the craft would be made public soon.

The new ferry will be designed specially for the Anacortes-Sidney route, and its speed will be much greater than that of the present boats. It will be able to make the trip in about two and a half hours, carrying forty automobiles. Tenders for the construction of the ferry will be called as soon as the plans and specifications have been completed.

Big Rush On Ferry.

Decision to construct a new ferry and to inaugurate a Winter service was reached by the ferry operators after the present Sidney-Anacortes service had been taxed to the limit to carry waiting automobiles from the Mainland to the Island. The Winter service, they explained, would be carried on by one boat, yet to be selected.

Last week-end demonstrated the necessity of a more complete Anacortes-Sidney service. The ferry Gleaner on Saturday handled 40 cars and 310 passengers, and on Sunday, 33 cars and 203 passengers. The Harvester King carried 24 cars on Saturday and 34 on Sunday. Many car drivers were unable to secure accommodation on both days.

"The enormous traffic on the ferries shows conclusively that our tourist advertising is getting results," George L. Warren, managing secretary of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, declared to-day. He stated that two new week-end routes for Mainland motorists were being arranged by the Association and would be announced soon.

H. BOTTOMLEY'S APPEAL FAILS IN LONDON COURT

London, July 4. — The Court of Criminal Appeal to-day dismissed the appeal of Horatio Bottomley, member of Parliament and former editor of John Bull, made from his recent conviction by a lower court of misappropriation of funds of the Victory Bond Club. Bottomley appealed on technicalities and applied for leave to submit other evidence. The hearing on the appeal lasted two days.

NEW COMMISSION FOR PALESTINE

British Suggest Group to Direct Holy Places

London, July 4.—The Foreign Office has published the reply of the Government to the representations of Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State, concerning religious liberty under the Palestine mandate. The reply declares that as a Christian power Great Britain is fully alive to the necessity of ensuring to all Christian communities that nothing will be done in Palestine which might be construed as negligence or indifference to Christian sentiment. In order to determine the existing rights in the holy palace and religious buildings or sites in Palestine, the Government proposes that a commission of not fewer than seven members selected from a panel originated by some international procedure and subject to the approval of the Council of the League of Nation shall have charge of these rights.

GERMAN DOCTOR CALLED TO MOSCOW TO ATTEND LENINE

Berlin, July 4.—The noted German neurologist, Professor Foerster, is stated again to have gone to Moscow, in response to a hurried summons, to attend Nikolai Lenine. It is reported that the Soviet Government has asked Dr. Foerster to remain in attendance upon the Soviet Premier for six months.

PLAN LAID BEFORE THE REPARATIONS COMMISSION

Paris, July 4.—The French Cabinet to-day decided to place before the Reparations Commission the reparations project recently presented to Premier Poincare by Minister of Public Works Letroquer, providing for the extensive use of German labor and material throughout France for the rebuilding of railways, waterways and other public works at a cost of 18,000,000,000 francs.

ISLAND FOREST FIRES VERY DANGEROUS

Chief Forester Reports Situation Bad on East Coast

Strong west winds are aiding the hot and dry weather to make the fire situation in the Vancouver Island and Lower Mainland districts extremely dangerous, according to reports today to P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester Fires at Stillwater, Grassey Bay Nimpkish, Comox and Menzies Bay have been out of control and some of them are still out of control.

In the north around Prince George the weather is still very dry and windy, but all the fires in the heavy timber are under control. There are some large fires in old burned forest areas which are not under control, but they are not doing much damage

Near Creston in the Cranbrook area one dangerous fire got beyond control. With everything there dry and hot, conditions there are reported to be very dangerous.

A lightning storm is reported to have caused one fire at Adams Lake in the Kamloops district, where six big fires have been burning but are reported to be under control.

During the last week outbreaks of 138 forest fires have been reported by rangers.

IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS STEADY

Movement in Canada Is Back Toward Normal

Toronto, July 4.—Although recovery in Canadian business is more pronounced in some lines than in others conditions are steadily improving and there is a growing feeling that the complete return to normal cannot be much longer deferred, according to dispatches received from branches of R. G. Dun and Company in the principal cities. Responding to the reemployment of a large amount of labor on the farms and in various industries in which operations are on a steadily broadening scale, notably building, iron and steel, lumber, mining and pulp, merchants are purchasing with increased confidence Montreal reports that while most purchasers are confining their operations to immediate requirements there is a growing disposition to place orders for Fall and Winter shipments.

Favorable weather and the vacation period have had a stimulating effect on retail trade at Quebec, but business at wholesale shows little change and collections continue slow

The crops in the West are making satisfactory progress in most districts and as a result wholesalers in Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Calgary and other important centres report that country merchants are operating with increased confidence. Orders however, while covering a wide range of commodities, do not as yet extend very far in advance of current requirements and as a rule are moderate in amount.

DROWNED AT VANCOUVER.

Vancouver, July 4.—Jack Purves, 27, was drowned in the harbor here last evening, when he fell off a gasoline launch on which he had been sailing.

TO-MORROW'S MARINE EXCURSION

Judging from the sale of tickets there will be a capacity list on the Princess Adelaide when she leaves the harbor at 10 o'clock tomorrow, carrying the A. O. U. W. excursion party to Bellingham. Dancing to the strains of Hunt's orchestra on the deck will be a novel feature of the programme, while a buffet luncheon will be served on board the ship. Entertainment of a fine degree will be obtainable on this trip, and there is no doubt that the entire excursion will be an unqualified success.

OAK BAY PLANS TO CHECK RACING

District Council Introduces Prohibitory By-law

May Seek Legislation to License Operators

Unless plans launched by the Oak Bay Council are prevented from being carried to a conclusion horse racing at the Willows Park or anywhere within the limits of Oak Bay municipality is doomed for this year.

Would Ban Racing.

While the Victoria civic fathers, owners of the Willows Park, are discussing the desirability of a race meet under the auspices of the B. C. Agricultural Association as lessees, the Oak Bay Council has stepped in and considered the first and second readings of a by-law that will prohibit racing after July 15 of this year.

At a committee meeting of the Oak Bay Council held last week Reeve Drake and his councillors decided on the policy of a by-law to this effect. At the regular meeting of the Oak Bay Council last night this by-law was put through all those readings possible. Only the final reading is now necessary to make the measure law.

Confirmation Awaited.

In the absence of Reeve Drake, who is out of town, the meeting was held

MERCHANTS WILL NAME CANDIDATE

Retailers Will Enter Vancouver By-election

Vancouver, July 4.—In protest against the personal property tax, the retail merchants of Greater Vancouver will run a businessman's candidate at the pending by-election in Vancouver, according to a decision at a public meeting held here yesterday.

Delegates to the provincial convention to be held in Victoria next week were instructed to make application to the provincial board for permission.

The retail merchants' candidate will be non-political, in that he will not identify himself with either of the parties.

The by-election will be held to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of M. A. Macdonald, K. C., who was a candidate in the Federal general election last December.

PRECHTING IS GIVEN SENTENCE FOR LIFE IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 4.—Baron Leo Prechting yesterday was found guilty of high treason and sentenced to life imprisonment in Munich on the charge that he had been in constant communication with French Minister Dardin in Munich, and was striving for separation of South Germany from North Germany by French occupation troops. The proposed dividing line, according to the charge, was to follow the River Main.

LORD SHAW TO VISIT VICTORIA

British Law Lord Will Be Here in August

London, July 4.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Lord Shaw of Dunfermline, who is to make an extensive journey through Canada, will leave England on the steamship Majestic on July 19. His last public duty before sailing was to participate as one of the members of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the hearing of the Grand Trunk appeal.

Lord Shaw will be accompanied by the Hon. Mrs. Vaughan Thompson, the "Isabel" in the "Letters to Isabel," a delightful book recently published, of which Lord Shaw is the author. From New York they will by accompanied by Mr. Davis, former American Ambassador to Great Britain. The party will reach San Francisco August 9 and will be formally welcomed by the American Bar Association. Later he will deliver his address on "Range of Law" in Seattle.

After his visit in Seattle Lord Shaw will be handed over to the hospitalities of the Canadian Bar Association, proceeding to Vancouver and Victoria. He will speak in Vancouver August 16 upon "Law as a Link of Empire," and will be heard also in Victoria. His subsequent programme includes visits to Banff, Lake Louise, Regina and Winnipeg. Thereafter he and his party will proceed to Toronto and Niagara and possibly Ottawa and Montreal.

BOMB THROWN IN MANNHEIM; PERSONS HURT

Berlin, July 4.—A bomb thrown into the courtyards of the trade union building in Mannheim last evening injured a number of persons and considerably damaged the building.

French Prepared To Support British Plan For Peace of World

General Disarmament Proposals Laid Before League of Nations Commission By Lord Robert Cecil Bring Forth Comments of Approval.

Paris, July 4.—The plan for general world disarmament which was laid before the temporary Mixed Commission on Disarmament of the League of Nations yesterday afternoon by Lord Robert Cecil of Great Britain was presented in full detail at this morning's session of the Commission. This plan is said to have been favorably received by most of the delegates.

It was received with considerable enthusiasm in French official circles, where it was asserted that it was just and fair to all nations involved. Lord Robert's basic argument that no disarmament can be effected unless it is universal is strongly endorsed by French officials, who said to-day that such had been the French position since the armistice.

While endorsing the idea of regional alliances for mutual protection, French officials pointed out that there was little or no disposition on the part of nations at this time to enter into such agreements.

It was further indicated that Lord Robert's plan, if it should come definitely before the European nations, would receive French support.

All nations, according to Lord Robert's plan, would sign a general dsarmament agreement and would agree to go to the defence of nations in their respective regions or continents in case of aggression.

United States.

The principal American objection to Article 10 of the League of Nations, it is held, would be met by this regional defensive plan, inasmuch as the United States already is committed to a similar policy on the American continent under the Monroe Doctrine, and Lord Robert's plan is designed to limit each nation's obligations in defensive alliance to such regions.

Military Commission

Lord Robert's plan provides for a permanent military commission to be the active controlling authority, subject to approval by the Council of the League of Nations. The commission would determine whether the contracting parties were complying with the agreement for reduction of armaments and whether any state's preparations constituted a menace, and if so what measures the other nations should take to aid the state so menaced.

These measures would be binding upon the aiding powers when approved by a three-fourths majority of the Council.

WORLD DIVIDED INTO FOUR REGIONS

The plan divides the world into four regions—America, Europe, Asia and Africa. Only the powers in each region would be obligated to aid a menaced nation upon the commission's recommendation, approved by the League Council.

The reduction of armaments would be determined in advance and constantly checked up and if any nation exceeded the amount of armaments allowed under the agreement, it would be subject to suspension from protection and to penalties provided for under Article XVI of the covenant of the League of Nations. The reduction would apply to naval, military and air forces.

Nations Eligible.

All members of the League of Nations and the United States, Germany and Russia would be eligible to enter into the proposed agreement and any of these might adhere to it only partially if the Council should approve such action and if specified reductions in armaments should be made.

All disputes as to the meaning and effect of the treaty, except in deciding whether armaments exceed the amount would be submitted to the Permanent Court of International Justice for final decision.

The plan submitted by Lord Esher is only in outline form. It provides for a ratio similar to that stipulated in the Washington agreement.

Lord Esher's pla gives the tenta-

NOW REORGANIZING GERMAN CABINET

Two Socialist Parties and Laborites Uniting

Mean to Prevent Monarchists Winning Success

Berlin, July 4.—Hermann Mueller, on behalf of the Majority Socialists, wrote a letter to the leader of the Independent Socialists in the Reichtag, it was announced to-day, stating it would be possible permanetly to suppress the German monarchists only if a solid Republican Government should be formed, and asking the Independents if they were prepared to join Chancellor Wirth's Cabinet with that object in view.

Crispien, on behalf of the Independents, replied, agreeing to this question.

The Nachrichtenblatt, the only newspaper appearing in Berlin today, says negotiations have commenced between the trades union and the Majority and Independent Socialists on the question of joining the Government, and that the proceedings are going forward harmoniously.

GROUPS OF MEN FIGHTING FIRES

Outbreaks at Several Points in the Province

Ninety Men Sent from Vancouver to Myrtle Point

Vancouver, July 4.—Ninety men left here last night for Myrtle Point to assist in fighting the forest fire in that district. They were reported at work to-day cutting a fire break in an effort to arrest the progress of the flames.

An outbreak of fire on Sunday is reported in the Powell Lake district. Serious fires are reported at Stillwater, Grassie Bay, Myrtle Point and Menzies Bay.

Twenty men were sent across the Inlet this morning to the north shore, to assist in checking the fire burning on Grouse Mountain. The outbreak is not a serious one.

TWO NURSES HURT IN A SMASH NEAR NEW WESTMINSTER

New Westminster, July 4.—Miss Ethel Campbell and Miss E. Burton, of Toronto, were seriously injured when an automobile in which they were being driven by Miss Alice MacDougall was run into by another car near here. Both Miss Campbell and Miss Burton are graduates of the Toronto General Hospital. They are members of an automobile party which left Toronto on May 24, on an automobile trip across the continent reaching here last week. Other members of the party are Miss Mabel Pugh and Miss Doris Hooper.

CANADIAN WHO SAVED FORTY-THREE LIVES PASSES AWAY

Ottawa, July 4. — (Canadian Press)—Known all over Eastern Canada as a champion life saver, Louis Beauchamp, 53, died yesterday. Beauchamp had saved no fewer than forty-three lives, being the possessor of numerous certificates. When sixteen years old he saved three young people from drowning in a deep hole in the Ottawa River. Two years ago he rescued a man and his wife from the waters of Lake Beschene.

Beauchamp was born at Ste. Scholastique, Que., and later lived at Hull and Sudbury.

SAY EVEREST COULD HAVE BEEN SCALED

Natives Declare Party Withdrew Too Soon

State Rainstorm Mistaken for Monsoon

London, July 4.—The Bombay correspondent of The Daily Mail writes that a controversy is under way there regarding the recent unsuccessful attempt to scale Mount Everest, which it is widely believed, failed as a result of too great haste.

While the members of the party declared the early monsoon prevented success, native bearers say the monsoon does not reach the Himalayas and that the rain which the climbers believed to be an early monsoon was merely a passing storm. They assert that if the expedition had waited at a height of about 20,000 feet it would have found several calm, sunshiny days on which the summit could have been reached.

Are You a Born Advertiser?

Certain merchants get a reputation for being born advertisers.

They may have earned the reputation. They were not born that way. Their particular genius has lain in the fact that, having marvelous faith in the power of Daily Newspaper Advertising, they went ahead with it regardless of immediate results.

They had courage. And the courageous advertiser gets the greatest rewards.

There are those whose temperament is not suited to Napoleonic tactics. Neither will their product or pocketbook permit them to use these tactics even if they were so inclined.

Daily Newspaper Advertising is as another brain to the sales force of these men. It is the one medium from which they get quick and accurate returns; and are so able to repeat their advertisements as often as conditions warrant, and the treasury justifies.

This is particularly true at this time of the year when the season, the weather, the change of fashion, the state of public mind and attitude of competitors, all combine to affect daily sales.

The born advertiser is not necessarily the large space advertiser nor does he have to have more than one thing to advertise.

If he is quick to seize every incident in his daily life and capitalize it in his next day's advertising—the public will soon pay him that tribute of admiration expressed in the words "a born advertiser."

BOARD STRENGTHENS HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

Expect Better Results With Commencement of New Term.

The staff of the Victoria High School will be much strengthened by appointments which the City School Board has made during the last few weeks, members of the Board believe. Last Christmas the Board commenced the work of putting the school back on its feet after the difficulties of the previous two terms, and at recent meetings furtner changes in the staff have been made. It is expected that by the time the school starts work again in September, in fact, that most of the changes desired by the Board will have been made completed, and that the studies will proceed under much more satisfactory auspices.

Teachers appointed to the teaching staff of city schools by the Board in private session last night are: Edward W. Kilby, Walter Brynjolfson, Albert S. Whiteley, Miss Sadie E. Hardy, Miss Christina Williams and Miss Sophie A. McKinnon.

With Mrs. Andrews on a vacation in the East the Board's meeting was conducted harmoniously last night. Trustee George Jay continued to preside, and his resignation as chairman was not considered.

PLAN FOR GATHERING OF D.O.O.K. MEN

Prominent Knights of Pythias Men to Meet in La Grande, Oregon

La Grande, Oregon, July 4, 1922.—(Special)—With the return from Portland recently of William Miller, where he consulted with the Grand Chancellor, Domain of Oregon, Knights of Pythias, the Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, Domain of Oregon; the Secretary of Portland Temple, D. O. K. K., and the President of the Portland Northwest Association of D. O. K. K. Temples, local committees in charge of the second annual convention to be held in La Grande September 1 and 2 have spurted up on arrangements. Prize monies for drill competitions and floats have been definitely fixed. The cash prizes will be distributed as follows:

Band—First prize, $200; second prize, $150.

Floats—Best K. of P. float, $50; best Dokie float, $50.

The exact regulations under which the various bands, drill teams and drum corps will contest will be issued within a few days. This phase of the programme of the convention will be an important one. The present programme is only partially complete, but is the nucleus. It is as follows:

Friday morning, September 1—Registration of delegates and visitors at Y. M. C. A. Meeting of delegate to Pacific Northwest Association of D. O. K. K. Temples. Friday afternoon—Ceremonial, which is the only event of the convention that is not open to the public; also automobile ride for delegates and visitors. Friday night—Stunt night at baseball grounds, followed by Mardi Gras on up town streets.

Saturday morning—Competitive drills between drill teams of Northwest Dokie Temples at ball grounds; meeting of official delegates. Saturday afternoon—Competitive contest between drum corps and bands in ball grounds. Saturday evening—Mammoth parade, followed by Mardi Gras.

In the parade will be floats from Dokie Temples, from Knights of Pythias Lodges, bands, divans, drill teams, drum corps and marching clubs. Under this head it can be noted that a prize of $50 will be given to the Knights of Pythias Lodge in the county which has the highest delegation in the marching clubs.

Additional details of the programme will be published shortly.

MAYO MAY RIVAL COBALT, EXPERT SAYS

Recent discoveries and developments at Mayo in the Yukon lead those familiar with silver mining to predict that the camp there which has arisen as the successor to the Dawson field, will eventually rival Cobalt, according to a message received at the Parliament Buildings to-day from Archie N. Martin, mining expert, who is now investigrting the Mayo field.

"The mining situation is improving as developments are carried on and the companies in the field are apparently in to stay," says Mr. Martin in his report from Keno Hill. "The Bradley Co. are enlarging the bunkhouse buildings and increasing the staff of miners. The Yukon Gold Co. have sufficient ore in sight to keep them working through all next Winter.

"Mr. Martin said that experiments are now being made to see if tractors can be used instead of horses for hauling the large quantities of ore from Keno Hill, where the mines are to Mayo Landing, 42 miles away, from which point shipment is made on the opening of navigation.

Cook Still Missing—Up to noon to-day no word had been received by the Provincial Police of Andrew Thompson, who is missing from the Canadian National Railway construction camp at Sooke. The employee, the camp cook in fact, walked out on June 22 to purchase tobacco. He returned with the tobacco and there all track of his movements end. The tobacco was found in his tent along with other personal effects. In the galley the dishes from the last meal were left unwashed and the place vacated. The theory is that the man sustained a sudden lapse of memory and is now wandering. A considerable sum is due the cook in wages.

Rockland Park W. C. T. U.—The Rockland Park W. C. T. U. held their July meeting at the Gorge Tea Gardens yesteday. Mrs. Shampeney presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. G. Hall. After the business meeting a basket picnic was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Ornstein will appear in Victoria next Winter.

SIDNEY LIQUOR STORE; REVELSTOKE ROAD

Whether there will be a Government liquor store at Sidney depends chiefly on Attorney-General Manson's decision as to whether the liquor-consuming population there is great enough to support a store.

Dr. Beal, Robert Sloan, Arthur Harvey, R. Wylie, H. A. McKilligan, F. W. Bowcott, A. E. Johnston, J. C. Crossley and J. Critchley appeared before Mr. Manson and told him that having to send to Victoria every time for a supply was a handicap. They said because of the demand for liquor there bootleggers are flourishing.

The Rev. T. Griffiths, J. D. Taylor, manager of the Sidney Mills, Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Miss Weymss, Mrs. Deacon, Alexander McDonald and Professor Straight of the Experimental Farm then appeared and told Mr. Manson that a liquor store would demoralize the whole community and that people who want liquor have no trouble in getting it from Victoria. They pointed out that undesirables would flock in because the town is the Canadian terminus of the Sidney-Anacortes ferry.

The population of the community was given as 2,000.

The Revelstoke-Okanagan Motor Road, which gives Revelstoke its first highway outlet to the outside world, will be opened on August 17 by Premier Oliver and the Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, who fathered the construction of the road. The opening ceremony will be performed at Malakwa.

GERMANY NOT TO PAY NATIONS UNLESS ALLIES CONSENT

Paris, July 4.—The Reparations Commission to-day notified Germany that she must not pay or release to the Ukraine 400,000,000 marks as provided for in the German treaty with the Ukraine without the Commission's approval, and also reminded Germany that she is obligated not to pay without the Commission's consent any foreign claims not arising under the Treaty of Versailles.

C.P.R. PARTY BACK AFTER HOLIDAY TEST OF UP-ISLAND RESORT

Party of local C. P. R. officials have returned to Victoria after holidaying at Savira Lodge, Shawnigan Lake, where they have been boating, fishing and swimming. The party made tests of the higher altitude air at Savira Lodge, which has just opened for the Summer, and the surrounding district, which is reported to be stimulating to asthmatics. In the party were Ernest W. Clayton, of the C. P. R. Telegraphs, and Mrs. Clayton, Walter E. Shepherd, F. R. Wells, J. T. Hodge and others.

INSURGENTS IN HOTEL IN DUBLIN CAPTURED

Dublin, July 4. — The enveloping movement by the Free State forces in the Sackville Street area is complete, and the final defeat of the rebels is in sight, says a communique issued from general headquarters in the Beggars' Bush barracks to-day.

The insurgents have been driven out of their positions in Earl Street.

Thirty-two rebels were captured when the national troops rushed the Earl Street positions and the Catholic Club opposite the Gresham Hotel.

The Young Men's Christian Association buildings in Sackville Street, which had been occupied by insurgents, was burned during the night after an attack by the Free Staters.

SHARP FIGHTING IN SLIGO REPORTED

Belfast, July 4.—Passengers arriving in Enniskillen from Sligo say there was fierce fighting there last night between Free Staters and Republicans. During the hostilities the police barracks were fired and the post office wrecked.

At Collooney, the courthouse and the homes of several Protestants were burned.

TWELVE MEN PUT BACK IN JAIL IN DROGHEDA

Belfast, July 4.—Twelve men who had been arrested and sentenced to the Dundalk jail for looting were rescued from the jail early to-day by their comrades and taken toward Drogheda in a commandeered lorry.

Regulars and irregulars started in pursuit a short time afterwards and overtook the twelve, six miles away. They refused to halt and fired on their pursuers. The fire was returned and one prisoner was wounded. All of them eventually were recaptured and taken back to jail.

SUPERANNUATION PLAN FOR TEACHERS IN OLD LAND

London, July 4—(Canadian Press Cable)—The Teachers' Superannuation Bill was given second reading in the House of Commons yesterday by a vote of 210 to 54. Supporters of the teachers advised members of the House not to press opposition to the measure on the understanding that the Government would undertake to consider amendments to certain provisions which did not meet with the teachers' approval.

Mr. Fisher, Minister of Education, undertook to limit clauses to two years and consider special conditions in areas which the Burnham scale of salaries does not include.

DAY CELEBRATED BY AMERICANS

To-day Chief National Holiday of United States

New York, July 4.—(Canadian Press)—Echoing the roar of fireworks which marked the celebration of Canada's national holiday last Saturday, the southern portion of the continent to-day devoted itself to the production of noise, both oratorical and pyrotechnical, in celebration of Independence Day, the major holiday in the United States calendar. As is customary, strenuous efforts were made by the authorities to assure a "Safe and Sane Fourth," but the small boy and the big fire cracker again appeared to be the most noticeable factor in the programme of the day.

Reports reaching New York from all sections of the United States indicated that beautiful weather was practically general throughout the country.

Sports.

Sporting events were scheduled in many cities. There were doubleheaders of all international league and major league ball clubs. The chief interest, however, centred in the Leonard-Rocky Kansas boxing bout at Michigan City, Ind. Other boxing contests scheduled included Bob Martin vs. Bill Brennan at Ashland, Ky., and Tommy Gibbons vs. Captain Bob Roper at Omaha.

Toronto, July 4.—A special cable from London to The Daily Mail and Empire says:

"Just an hour before he was shot down by two Irish zealots on June 22, Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson delivered an address on the unveiling of the Great Eastern War Memorial in the Liverpool Street Station in London.

"Immediately after a photo was taken Sir Henry moved a step to the right. The photographer, stationed in the gallery, changed plates and took another picture.

"Through some trick of the light or because the exposure was made just as Sir Henry was moving, the background in this picture is visible through his body. The columns of names on the roll of honor may be seen plainly and heavy mourning lines divide the columns. In London this picture is being called the "premonition photo."

"An extraordinary aspect of the incident is that a second photographer found a similar result when he developed his plate.

tive ratios as follows, each unit representing 30,000 men.

France, six units; Italy, four; Poland, four; Czecho-Slovakai, Great Britain, Greece, Jugo-Slavia, Holland, Rumania and Spain, three each; Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland, two each; Portugal, one unit; and Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary to retain their forces as fixed by the peace treaties.

Home Forces.

These ratios would apply only to the home forces. Each nation would be free to determine the number necessary for colonial and overseas purposes.

This ratio agreement would be effective two months after being signed by all the participants and would continue for ten years.

GENERAL TRADE OF BRITAIN IMPROVES

London, July 4 (Canadian Press Cable)—The president of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, at the half yearly meeting to-day, said the general trade of the country was steadily improving. The coal industry, he said, had regained much of its lost export business, the iron and steel business was improving slowly, and the textile machinery business was very busy. There was little improvement in the engineering industries, but in the woolen and worsted lines a wonderful recovery had been effected, and they will still improving.

Gratification was expressed by the president at the substantial reduction of taxation in the postal and telephone charges.

ROYAL ACADEMY TESTS.

Announcement is made by Harry Charlesworth as honorary representative of the Royal Academy of Music, of London, England, that all the tests made of musical students for the Royal Academy certificates will be accepted as conducted by the late E. G. Croager. Mr. Charlesworth says that the work is now in the hands of Professor Haigh, and on the completion of the tests in Victoria the full results will be published. This statement is made in view of the enquiries by students who sat under the late Mr. Croager, who are anxious to know whether they will have to submit to fresh examinations.

Canadian Daily Newspaper Association,

Dear Sirs:

Daily newspaper advertising has played an important part in our general business.

In an experience extending over more than sixteen years we have found that such advertising accomplishes a threefold purpose:

It brings directly traceable results from investors, thereby increasing our business.

It favourably introduces our name and serves as an introductory support to our salesmen.

It serves the larger purpose of educating investors to a keener appreciation of bonds as an investment, which benefits the bond business as a whole.

Our newspaper advertising appropriation has each year increased with the growth of our business.

Yours very truly,

Wood, Gundy & Co.

ADC:MR

The Victory Loan campaigns taught many financial houses the value of Daily Newspaper advertising, but Messrs. Wood, Gundy & Company, from the first day they started in business, have been liberal users of the Daily Newspapers of Canada in reaching the position they are now conceded among dealers in Government and Municipal Bonds. Such firms as these can decide with accuracy when advertising should be diminished, when increased, to maintain its true proportion in the business budget

MANITOBA PREPARES FOR ELECTION

Campaign Leading Up to Polling July 18

Already 150 in Field; Fifty-five Seats

Winnipeg, July 4.—(Canadian Press)—With the close only two weeks distant of what a political writer in a local paper calls a "painfully dull campaign," the 221,274 persons whose names are on the Manitoba voters' list are displaying no lively interest in the issues and personalities of the provincial general election. Fifty-three members of the Legislature are to be elected on Tuesday, July 18, and two others will be chosen at deferred elections in The Pas and Rupert's Land, on a date which is not yet fixed. Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, represented The Pas in the last House and probably will be a candidate again.

There are now close to 150 candidates in the field, and this list will be increased before the official nominations are held on Saturday of this week. There will be more than forty candidates in Winnipeg, where ten members are to be elected by proportional representation. The candidates are fairly evenly divided among Liberals, Conservatives, Progressives, (allied with the United Farmers and Labor) with a few Independents and the chosen ten are likely to include representatives of all the parties.

Public meetings are being held in large numbers. In Winnipeg audiences have been small up to this time, but in the rural districts rather more interest is being taken. No spectacular issues have developed, and the arguments are based largely on the record of the Norris Government and allegations of extravagant administration.

Government supporters claim to see indications in the rural ridings of a Liberal reaction, and the suggestion is heard from such sources that the next Cabinet is likely to be a coalition of Liberals and Farmers, with Mr. Norris continuing as Premier. On the other hand, prominent members of the United Farmers' Party profess confidence in the prospects and expect that the Farmers will command a majority in the next House, which will make unnecessary any combination of groups.

The entry into provincial politics as an organized force of the United Farmers complicates the situation for those who have been accustomed to make political forecasts, and having for their guidance only last December's Federal vote in Manitoba, they are content for the most part to express themselves in vague generalities.

CIVIL SERVICE BODY TO MAKE FEWER APPOINTMENTS

Ottawa, July 4.—Exclusion of a number of persons in the civil service from the operation of the Civil Service Act was recommended by the Civil Service Commission and has been confirmed by the Government. This means that the appointments made in the various classes specified will not in future be made by the Civil Service Commission.

1. All positions where the salary does not exceed $2,000 a year.

2. All positions for which the compensation provided is fees of office, and positions of an honorary character to which no compensation is attached.

3. Position of orderly in the office of the Governor-General's secretary.

4. Positions of Indian interpreter, Department of Indian Affairs.

5. Positions of physicians performing the duties of port physicians under the Department of Health at points in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Quebec and British Columbia.

6. Positions in 144 classes of skilled and unskilled labor specified in the regualtions.

In recommending that the classes mentioned be exempted from the operation of the act, the Civil Service Commission stated that the selection of employees for the specified classes should be entirely in the hands of the Departments, provided that the preference extended to returned soldiers was observed, that the person selected should satisfy the Department as to his qualifications, and that he should be suitable as to age, character and habits. Compensation paid should not exceed the salaries set forth in the classification schedule, and where "prevailing rates" were provided as the compensation for a class, or where no class schedule existed, the rates of pay, it was stated, should be such as were recommended by the Department and approved by the Governor-in-Council.

MAN FACES HIS FOURTH TRIAL

St. John, N.B., July 4.—The fourth trial of John Paris on a charge of murdering Sadie McAuley will commence here to-day before Mr. Justice Chandler at a postponed sitting of the Court of King's Bench. The fact that Paris is to be given a fourth trial on the same charge makes his case unique in the annals of the criminal courts of the Province of New Brunswick.

CROWDS ATTENDED ALBERNI EVENTS

Holiday Sports and Dance Successful; Hospital Aided

(Times Correspondence)

Alberni.—The people of this district will long remember July 1 of this year as their most successful holiday celebration. In addition to the regular day's programme of sports, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the West Coast General Hospital had decided months ago to make July 1 Hospital Day with a view to raising at least $1,000 to help clear off the debt of the institution. As a result of the brilliant success of the affair the hospital will be entirely cleared of its debt and will have a substantial balance placed in the treasury. The success of the whole affair was due to the untiring efforts of the indefatigable secretary, Mrs. J. J. Burke, ably assisted by Mrs. H. D. Pineo, Mrs. W. R. H. Prescott, Mrs. H. N. Wood, Mrs. G. Forrest, Mrs. C. A. Cox, Mrs. R. Milligan and Mrs. J. A. McNiff and many others, who all deserve their share of the credit. Those in charge of the various stalls, etc., were: Ice cream, Mrs. E. Goodall, Mrs. E. E. Frost and Mr. E. E. Frost; soft drinks, Mrs. C. A. Cox, Mrs. W. P. Beavan and Mr. R. Milligan; luncheon and afternoon tea, Mrs. J. J. Burke, assisted by a large staff of helpers, who were kept busy all afternoon; side shows, Mrs. W. R. H. Prescott, Mrs. R. J. Burde, Mrs. J. E. Doyen and Sergt. Taylor.

At the crowning of the Rose Queen of the Alberni Valley Major R. J. Burde, M.P.P., spoke, and Miss Violet Paterson, the ex-May Queen, placed the crown of roses on the head of Miss Margaret Milligan, the Queen-elect, who had defeated Miss Dorothy Bayne by the close margin of three votes for the signal honor. The Queen was attended by the Misses Dorothy Bayne and Miss Kitty Burke as maids of honor, Misses Margaret Pineo and Verna Proctor were the little flower girls, while Masters Gordon McIntyre and Richard Washburn were the pages. The Alberni troop of Boy Scouts under Scoutmaster J. B. Watson formed the guard of honor. During the afternoon the Alberni brass band rendered a number of selections, this being a voluntary contribution.

At 6 p.m. the five-mile race was run off, followed by the water sports.

In the evening a dance was held in Clarke's Hall.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the ladies who worked so hard to make this event the success it was.

Those in charge of the sports, which included children and open amateur events were as follows: E. M. Whyte, chairman; S. H. Toy, secretary, and Messrs. F. H. Bishop, L. A. Hanna, C. A. Duff, J. A. McNiff, J. Forrest and S. Evanson, committee. Messrs. F. H. Bishop and S. H. Toy acted as starters, E. M. Whyte as announcer, E. J. Cronk and A. E. Drinkwater as timekeepers and Messrs J. Redford, G. Drinkwater, F. Drinkwater, K. Gill and W. Hillier as judges.

PRIZES AWARDED AT EVENT OF THE METCHOSIN SCHOOL

Metchosin — The Metchosin school closed with the usual picnic on Weir's Beach and the prize distribution and school sports. An unusual and very pretty feature of the afternoon's events was the maypole dance, which was arranged by the principal, Miss Ivy Sprinkling, and performed by the children with precision and neatness.

Prizes were awarded as follows, being presented by the Rev. and Mrs. Comley.

Prizes — Good conduct, William Milne; Florence Corbett and Nora Corbett; conduct and proficiency, Valerie Ellwood; general knowledge, John Taylor; English, Frank Barclay; perseverance, Barbara Brown; Spelling, Lila Schofield; good work, Gertrude Schofield and Phyllis Pruvy; school garden prizes, Gladys Snider, Enid Ellwood, Beryl Pears, James Milne and Andrew Arden; grammar, Margaret Helgesen; reading, Bessie Pruvy; writing, John Pears, Alan Barclay and Doris Lintott; arithmetic, Nora Helgesen; special prizes, Ronald Weir, Stanley Witty and Carl Corbett.

The sports programme, which had been arranged by Trustee Mrs. Weir, Miss Sprinkling and W. G. Milsted, included a wheel-barrow race, bicycle races, potato, spoon and sack races, as well as the usual flat and three-legged races. The winners were all awarded prizes, and the spectators greatly enjoyed the events. Ice cream was served to everyone present, and a bountiful tea was served by Mesdames Helgesen, Comley, Witty, Arden, Pruvy and Snider. A short programme of songs and recitations presented by some of the school children, brought enjoyable event to a close.

CRICKET GAME AT DUNCAN SATURDAY

(Times Correspondence)

Duncan.—On Saturday next the Cowichan first cricket eleven will entertain the Army and Navy Veterans of Victoria in an all-day match in Duncan. The home team will be chosen from the following: Capt. R. E. Barkley, Capt. G. Dobbie, Capt. A. Matthews, Capt. A. Leighton, Major R. Corfield, B. Hope, Carr-Hilton, Sr., Carr-Hilton, Jr., H. M. Finlayson, A. E. Green, G. G. Baiss, R. Napper and Ian Roome.

Somenos Won.

A friendly match was played on Dominion Day on the Cowichan Cricket and Sports Club grounds between a Cowichan eleven captained by W. T. Corbishley and a team representing Somenos and district by E. Westcott. The latter team won by 18 runs after a very hard struggle. For the winners H. Napper played a fine innings of 51, and on the other side B. Hope was top scorer with a well played 58.

Mrs. Kirkham, Mrs. Corbishley and Mrs. A. E. Green kindly served a delicious tea.

Dance a Success.

The Cowichan Agricultural Society's Cinderella dance on Saturday evening last drew a large crowd, many no doubt going on there after attending the regatta. Henderson's four-piece orchestra supplied excellent music. Among the out-of-town guests noticed were Mr. and Mrs. W. Neish, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Darling, Miss Gertrude Steele, Mr. Harwood Steele, Mr. Robert Harwood and Mr. W. Ritchie of Vancouver, and Miss Hardie, Miss Jackson, Miss Bagshawe, Miss Vivian Coombe (who is the guest of Miss Kennington, Cowichan Bay), Capt. Weekes, Capt. Campbell, Lieut. McIntosh, Mr. Jackson, Mr. Bevan and Mr. Crump of Victoria.

SOOKE BOYS HAD PLEASANT OUTING

(Times Correspondence)

Sooke Harbor—The local subdivision of the Boys' Naval Brigade enjoyed a delightful trip along the coast to the old Indian race track. George Jackson's motor launch and tow boat were chartered for this outing, and it was an attractive sight to witness the latter filled with some sixteen members of this movement in uniform, with their flag flying, passing up the harbor and out to the Straits. There was no doubt as to the success of the trip or the enjoyment of the lads, for upon their return to Murray's Landing a spontaneous and lusty three cheers and a "tiger" went up from these young sailors for their O. C. The party was in charge of P. O. Charles Barbour, with Leading Seaman C. Nicholson second in command. Soft drinks were served out at intervals, the last bottles being very carefully divided among the crew and administered in small doses by the P. O.

Sunday brought visitors to the Sooke Harbor District, including the Misses Wyles and Mr. Wyles, Miss Frampton, Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, Miss Crook and Miss McCrohie. After luncheon they took a short drive round the village and were much interested in the Sooke War Memorial. All were charmed with the beautiful scenery along the inlet, and declared this drive to be one of the finest on the Island.

GARDEN FETE AT LANGFORD RAISED FUNDS FOR CHURCH

(Times Correspondence)

Langford—A very successful garden fete was held at Langford on Saturday afternoon in the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bullen's home, under the auspices of the Langford branch of the W. A., for the benefit of the church building fund. It was opened by Mrs. H. Pearson, wife of the vicar of Colwood, with a few words of welcome.

The grounds had been prettily arranged and decorated by the committee, the stalls representing the different countries of the Empire. The articles entered in the talent competition, which were also donations to the cause, were on Ireland's stall, prettily decorated with the harp and shamrocks, the manager being Mrs. Hincks dressed in Irish costume. Her assistants, Miss Mabel Wade and Miss Genevive Scafe were also in picturesque costume. Judges for the Talent Competition were Mrs. Douglas Bullen and Mrs. Helmcken, Victoria. The following prizes were awarded:

Talent—1st prize, Miss Frances Whillans. Trading prize—1, ladies, Mrs. Cowie; 1, girls, Miss Mabel Wade. Best value—1st prize, Mrs. Gilbert Ashe, Albert Head.

Mrs. Goucher and Miss Hockley had charge of the stall representing England, which contained work of every description. Ice cream and home-cooking was ably managed by Mrs. Eldridge, Mrs. Jobson and Mr. Benson, who attended to the soft drinks department. The Rev. H. Pearson ran the cocoanut shy.

Mrs. H. Pearson and Miss Waddington were in charge of the candy stall.

A very special feature of the afternoon's attractions was a delightful pas seal danced by little Trixie Locke, a pupil of Madame Valda. Trixie, who is only ten years of age and has only been training for four months, posed beautifully.

The maypole dance was perfomed by fifteen local children, boys and girls, dressed in red, white and blue, trained by Mrs. W. Gibson. The little queen, Miss T. Radford, and her page, Master Howard Smedley, looking very sweet in the midst of the dancers.

Other attractions included clock golf, nail driving competition for ladies and gentlemen, comic races, pony rides, lucky bag and a host of others. The bead-guessing competition was won by Mrs. F. Osborne, of Metchosin, with a guess of 580, the actual number of beads on the belt being 571.

Afternoon tea was served on small tables in the shade of the trees, by the Misses Isabel Sloan, Agnes Thom and Barbara MacTavish, with Mrs. Waddington as convener.

The W. A. extended the heartiest thanks to the following: For donations of prizes, Mrs. Wm. Cuthbert Holme, Mrs. Peatt, Sr., Colwood; Miss Hockley, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bullen, the Misses Rant, Dr. and Mrs Donald, Mr. W. Gibson and G. D. Sloan. To Mrs. Goucher for loan of chairs, etc., and to the Women's Institute for flags and china, and to Mrs. Letchfield for gift of strawberries, and to all who so kindly gave and helped so much towards the success of the event, including Madame Valda, who brought out her pupil for the delectation of the gathering.

The day's proceedings drew to a close with an amusing auction of left over goods by the Rev. H. Pearson and Douglas Bullen, and cheers for the workers and a tiger for the King, it being Dominion Day. The church fund will benefit to the amount of about $193, as a result of the fete.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE SCHOOL HAD ITS CLOSING EXERCISES

(Times Correspondence.)

Shawnigan Lake.—For the closing exercises of the Shawnigan Lake Public School, the teacher, Miss Rita M. Allen, had prepared an attractive programme.

Those who took part were: Iris Dick, J. Burdes, Marjorie Neff, Leonard Neff, Agnes Phillips, Mary Cummins and Leonard Neff.

After the concert Miss Allen announced the results of the year's work with the promotions which were as follows:

First Primer to Second Primer—Edith Sam, Leonard Sam, Yuen Chin, Ping Sing and Juanita Pelland.

Second Primer to First Reader—Mary Cummins and George Griffin.

First Reader B to First Reader A—Agnes Phillips and Olive Elford.

First Reader A to Second Reader—Hervey Neff, George Grievson and Irene Luckovich.

Second Reader to Third Reader—George Ewan, Marjorie Neff, Franklin Sam, Claude Grievson and Iris Dick.

Junior Third Reader to Senior Third Reader—Gwen Clark, Walter Elford, Charlie Lewington, Wilfred Pelland, Stanley Yates and John Burdes.

Junior Fourth to Senior Fourth—Kathleen Luckovitch, Leonard Neff and Edward Lewington.

Prizes.

The prize for best all year work was won by Gwen Clark.

The prize for neatness in her school work was awarded to Agnes Phillips.

Roll of Honor for deportment awarded to Edith Sam.

For regularity and punctuality, awarded to Emily Addison.

After the presentations the scholars gave three cheers for the teacher and the trustees. S. J. Heald, the secretary of the School Board, replied congratulating the teacher and scholars for the excellence of their work and expressed regret that Miss Allen had resigned as teacher. Mr. O. A. Barry, who had accepted the position of teacher for the school, was present and was introduced to the parents and scholars. He asked for the hearty co-operation of both the parents and children in the coming year's work, and created a favorable impression by his earnestness.

The school held its annual picnic on Friday at the Strathcona grounds where a most enjoyable time was spent.

SCHOOL PICNIC AND SPORTS HELD ON RIVER FLATS

(Times Correspondence.)

Sooke Harbor.—In lovely weather the Sooke School held its annual picnic and sports in conjunction with the schools of Shirley, Otter Point and North Sooke, on the Sooke River Flats, an ideal place for such an event.

The following is a list of the prizes won in the various events:

Running Races.

CHOOSING COMMISSIONERS.

Not many people familiar with both methods will agree with the Mayor that Victoria's system of choosing Police Commissioners is better than that of the cities of Ontario. In the eastern cities the Board consists of the Mayor, the Police Magistrate and a County Court Judge and this arrangement, adopted after many others had been tried and found wanting, operates so effectively that it has been commended by the Police Chiefs' Association for general application throughout Canada. To our mind the election of Police Commissioners is open to the same objections that the election of a Chief of Police would be.

It does not follow that a candidate who catches popular favor at the polls will be a good commissioner any more than he will be an efficient or honest head of a Police Department. Indeed, the best administrators more often than not are the most unfavorable candidates. Colonel Roosevelt once remarked that Elihu Root would have made the best President the United States ever had, but that, alas, he never could have been elected because he would have been the worst candidate that ever ran. It is possible, of course, for the public to elect as good a Board as can be appointed, but the chances are about ten to one that it will not. More than that it is impossible to induce more than a very small fraction of the electorate to go to the polls.

We agree with the Mayor, however, in his opinion that the election of Police Commissioners is better than the appointive system that formerly prevailed here, which gave to the Government of the day that did the appointing too tempting an opportunity to make the Police Board and the Police Commissioners parts of a political machine.

AT BAY.

Sooner or later it may dawn upon that section of the Southern Irish which is working overtime to prevent the arrival of conditions of peace and progress that all the damage which it is causing will have to be paid for by Irishmen themselves. The stand that is being made in parts of Dublin and in other localities may be very spectacular and doubtless feeds the vanity of Eammon de Valera and his followers. But it is a line of conduct that finds no support with the vast majority of the people whose votes at the recent election indicated their desire to give the Free State Government an opportunity to work out the destiny of the country. On this account if for no other reason this hopeless and senseless revolt is nothing short of the final bid of the escaped convict who finds himself surrounded by the guardians of law and order who do not propose to give up the chase until their object shall have been achieved. On the other hand the insurrectionists have strengthened the hand of Mr. Michael Collins by automatically destroying all the effect that the coalition pact ever had. Consequently the prime concern of the leader of the Provisional Government dwindles down to the subjugation of his opponents by the ample forces at his command and the eventual formation of a Cabinet that will include none but those who are loyal to the Treaty and will live up to the provisions of the Constitution. Meanwhile Mr. Collins is displaying remarkable restraint under circumstances that have few if any parallels. In following that course he will gain strength at home and increase his prestige farther afield. Incidentally he will eventually bring peace to Ireland.

QUITE CANDID.

Great Britain's Minister of Agriculture is nothing if not candid. He has now stated definitely what had been generally expected for some time past. He proposes to speak and vote against the removal of the British embargo against Canadian cattle when the subject comes up for discussion in the House of Commons a few days hence. He declares that agricultural opinion is overwhelmingly against any interference and generally takes the attitude that the stock-raising industry in the Motherland requires this form of protection. In other words the question no longer involves a sanitary regulation; it is a pure and simple economic consideration. In this Canada has no desire to interfere in the slightest extent. Its chief interest lies in a speculation as to whether the pledge that was given to this country at the Imperial Conference in 1917 was given with the authority of the Government of the day or whether the common cause of the moment produced a benevolent frame of mind that was only temporary.

TRANQUILLE.

If the Provincial Government is well advised it will lose no time in exercising its option on the property which adjoins its present holdings at Tranquille. The area that it contemplates purchasing comprises 140 acres of irrigated land, with barns and buildings already erected and in excellent condition, and 440 acres of grazing land. With this going concern there are something over nine thousand acres of grazing leases of which the Government would have full use.

It goes without saying that the primary object of acquiring this particular property is the extension of additional facility for the production of foodstuffs for use at the Government's tubercular institution. But it would appear to us that a move of this kind should be the first step towards the establishment of an industrial colony where sheltered employment could be provided for those military and civil patients whose condition would be endangered by a change of environment or an absence of effective supervision. As it is the military patient remains in the institution until he either gets completely fed up and insists that he be discharged, whether his case warrants it or not, or else he languishes there and gradually loses such energy and initiative as might be created within him were he to be shown some way of regaining a measure of that independence of which his malady has robbed him for the time being. The civilian patient who is able to pay for treatment naturally does so until his bank balance causes him as much worry as his diseased lung; but the poor mortal who may have to go to Tranquille from one of the coast cities and leave his family behind is faced with a pretty melancholy prospect under existing conditions.

The obvious remedy is the tubercular colony. And one does not have to go far for the reasons why the whole matter should be thoroughly canvassed at the next session of the Legislature. It has been authoritatively stated that there are something like four thousand cases of tuberculosis in British Columbia at the present time. Official records also prove that more than four hundred persons die of the malady in this Province every year. What is the provision for these unfortunate people? Advanced cases, that means the hopeless cases, go to a special ward in the hospitals. The incipient more often than not hangs on in the hope of getting better until he finally gets the choice of giving himself over to proper treatment at his own home or at the provincial institution. The latter is usually out of the question for the very important reason that all the accommodation is in use and others are ahead of him on the waiting list.

What are the facts? When the Nurses' Home has been completed at Tranquille and the nurses move out of the hospital proper there will be exactly 230 beds available. Out of this number 130 are occupied by former members of the C. E. F.—a concession given to the Dominion Government in consideration of its contribution towards the cost of constructing the new wing. In other words there will soon be 100 beds to house—because they should house them as soon as the incipient stage is reached—the four thousand. Surely the Legislature could employ some of its time with this question with more profit than vain attempts to pick up spilled political milk.

SCOTTISH HOME RULE.

The Times has received a pamphlet entitled "Home Rule for Scotland—the Case in 90 Points," issued by the Scottish Home Rule Association, an organization which has been agitating for self-government for Scotland for a considerable time. According to this publication Scottish Home Rule means: (1) The creation of a National Scottish Parliament, to sit in Scotland and pass laws on all matters affecting Scotland only. (2) The creation of a National Scottish Executive and Ministry, to control the administration of Scottish affairs, subject to the Scottish Parliament alone. The authors of the book point out that the British Empire is a Home Rule Empire, and contend that Scotland, being a distinct nation, no longer can rest content with her present status.

No doubt Home Rule will eventually come to Scotland, if for no other reason than that the adoption of the Federal system for the United Kingdom probably would facilitate the business of the Parliament at Westminster by relieving it of a mass of detail it should not have to bother with. But Scotland geographically and Scotland racially, commercially and financially, are two different entities. The limits of the geographical Scotland, fixed by nature, are small. It is hard to determine the boundaries of the other Scotland. They extend over the English-speaking world. Canada, for example, is very largely a part of that Scotland. Even the United States, judging by the ancestry of many of its ablest leaders, comes within those boundaries. We are not going to emphasize the part of the Scot in the Government of the United Kingdom, because everybody knows about that. The pamphlet "Home Rule for Scotland," sadly declares that "under the existing system Scotland is a decaying, even a dying nation." But what of that other Scotland—whose children and children's children hold in their tenacious hands so much of the glory, the achievement and the destinies of the human race scattered over the seven seas?

NOTE AND COMMENT

Victoria is experiencing warm weather; but what about our own dry belt and Sacramento Valley?

While many forest fires are the natural result of hot weather there are numerous outbreaks that can be traced to carelessness on the part of the public.

Statements have appeared in the press to the effect that British Columbia House is not to be sold; but the Government appears to be negotiating. We shall hope to learn soon that the sale is "off."

Mr. Michael Collins must have made very definite decisions as a result of the recent interchanges between himself and the British Government. At least the battle of Dublin should shoot the coalition pact to pieces.

SAANICH HEALTH CENTRE

To the Editor—May I be permitted to answer through your columns the letter of Observer, dated June 25?

Surely "Observer" means to apply the criticism "elaborate and labored" to his own wonderful composition.

"Observer" has gone forth valiantly as "one who marched breast forward"—but surely he bears the oft-pierced shield "printer's error."

"Observer's" opinion is that the site of the Saanich Health Centre is unsuitable as a "home for the infirm, disabled and decrepit persons and for general hospital purposes" because of "the ceaseless traffic, bustle and noise close to the road. . ."

I ask "Observer" to spend three days and nights at the Centre as I have done, and he will come away from the peaceful retreat with regret, and longing for a speedy return to such a sunny, happy and healthful abode.

In paragraph three "Observer" omits the qualifying word "practically" which is in Councillor Macnicol's letter. This qualification was necessary because one "infirm old lady" has been actually in residence at the Centre, and I have reason to believe that she was very happy there. Paragraph three is so ambiguous that one has to tread warily. I feel that one must give the benefit of the doubt here and forcibly remark, "Printer's error."

". . . what an institution to train nurses in, having no subjects, occupation or practice. A habitation or graveyard of ruined prospects, disappointed aspirations and blighted hopes to extend some comfort to those afflicted in their sorrow and adverse conditions." Would "Observer" be good enough to reprint his letter and explain for what he is really asking us to express our sympathy?

"Far removed from populous centres, this war memorial can never fulfil the objects desired." Would it not be well, "Observer," before passing this sweeping judgment, to give the Health Centre a trial run?

"It can never expect to be in the class of efficiency with the St. Joseph's or the Jubilee Hospitals." "Observer," I must gravely disagree with you here. The nursing staff employed at the Saanich Health Centre will not be otherwise than graduate nurses. These graduate nurses will be the very best to be found in the graduate nurse world. Therefore, "Observer," there can be no comparison between this service and the service of the nurses in training at the St. Joseph's and Jubilee Hospitals.

". . . and for maternity cases is beastly rotten from its cramped grounds and its building jammed up against a paved, much-travelled highway, with its everlasting noise and bustle." Dear "Observer," I beg you to pause awhile. Take another walk over there and ask if you might spend half an hour on one of the sun perches or in one of the case rooms. I am sure you will come away with a changed conviction of the perspective.

"Observer" then leads one on in a maze. "This $12,000 per annum expenditure (as quoted by Councillor Macnicol in paragraph four of his letter of June 23, where he suggests increasing it to $15,000 per annum as an experiment to save its face) . . ." "Observer," do please help me. What face; whose face? I always long to see the "face" of an expenditure, but alas, it is always the "latter end" that passes swiftly from my sorrowing eyes.

"Observer," I long for the day when the "very best medical services on the Pacific Coast" will extend their benign influence from that worthy institution, the Royal Jubilee Hospital, even unto the Saanich Health Centre.

Come now, "Observer," pick up your axe and grind merrily. Make your aim to help to make the Health Centre all you would or could, or should have it to be, and your daughters and granddaughters will rise up and call you blessed.

CHINA'S POLITICAL SITUATION

To the Editor:—Your article on the Chinese question, on Wednesday, June 21, could not have been based upon information from the most reliable sources and I would like the privilege of explaining the situation.

Before going further let me state here Dr. Sun Yat Sen is a real democrat, a true patriot, a man of highest principles and, as a leader of the people, his records and character are unblemished. He holds China most dear to his heart, and in his endeavor to give her a "Government of the people, by the people and for the people," he ungrudingly, ceaselessly and faithfully worked for a score and ten years, sacrificing his personal happiness and fortune. But woe is China! Her traitors, used as mediums by foreign intrigue, have been working relentlessly to unravel his magnificent accomplishments (overthrow of the Manchu Dynasty and establishment of Republic). It was all through these traitors that turmoils are kept boiling throughout the twelve years of the Republic's career. So the doctor was forced to take up arms to safeguard his handiwork and the happiness, rights and interests of the people. Foreign intrigue is another of China's deadly enemies who, for their own selfish ends, are doing their utmost to keep China down in the lowest gutter so that they may suck her life blood (her natural resources) at will. Dr. Sun is the only force that thwarts their pernicious intrigues. It was for this reason they branded him a nuisance. Dr. Sun aspires no personal aggrandizement, which was proven by his willingly resigning the presidency to Yuan Shi Kai immediately after the Republic was established.

Now in the said article there are several instances that I wish to take exception and point out you have erred. In the first instance you seemed to think Dr. Sun's activities are unnecessary and detrimental to re-unification of war-torn China. No! You have misrepresented the truth. Dr. Sun's sole purpose was to bring the several prodigal parts of the country back to a united whole. Re-unification, to be effective, must be accomplished by proper authority, which is the legal Government in Canton as it was established according to constitution by the rightful representatives of the whole people.

The Government at Pekin is illegal for the fact that it was self-appointed, therefore not representative of popular will. Consequently it has neither authority nor constitutional right to bring about re-unification. Even if it should succeed in its plans it would have no binding force.

Secondly, you presume Dr. Wu Ting Fang will ultimately break from Dr. Sun Yat Sen and accept the premiership with the Pekin party. Here you are wrong. Dr. Wu is a man of staunch principles. He had pledged himself to stand by Dr. Sun in the great and noble work of emancipation of China from all treacherous characters and give China a genuine democracy under Jeffersonean principles. Even unto death Dr. Wu will never have anything to do with the clique in the North.

During the first five or six years of Republic, Dr. Wu had held various important positions of responsibilitity with the Government when it was at Pekin, but he went to Canton with the Parliament when the Government was forced from office by the treacherous military party. Ever since he remained with the constitutional and legal Government with Dr. Sun, President at Canton. So it is unreasonable to believe he ever will again mix with those whom he once denounced as usurpers; but much less will he accept the premiership especially when it is offered him by such a person as Li Yuan Hong, who proved himself a traitor by his cowardly action of sacrificing the Republic by abolition of Parliament rather than suffer any personal disadvantages. Li is not reinstated by the people yet; although he claimed he is recalled by the old Parliament. It is not true. The fact he is recalled only by few stragglers remained in the North of the old Parliament. At present the old Parliament is established in the South and it has not recalled Li. In fact there is no need of recalling Li as Dr. Sun is a legal President for the whole of China.

Thirdly, you claimed Wu Pei Fu to have no political ambition but will be content to remain a soldier. The truth is otherwise, for it was through his political intrigues that China's woes are accelerated. He has actively engaged, during the last twelve months, in a conspiracy to establish a third Government along the Yangtze Valley with himself as head. When the Washington Conference was in progress, Wu thought it was a chance of his life to undermine the Pekin party and to accomplish his own ends. So accordingly he issued a declaration to all the powers, denounced the Pekin Government as illegal and not representative of popular will, and the same time he invited Dr. Sun to join with him in an expedition against the North. The Southern Government saw he was not sincere, but only moved to attain his political ambition, so ignored him. Shortly afterward Wu's scheme for a third Government failed completely, and finding himself in a very critical position through his own political conspiracy and knowing the Southern Government will not receive him, he immediately but falsely confessed his guilt to Pekin and undertook an expedition against Chang Shao Lin to redeem himself.

Before General Chang's defeat Wu declared in favor of Hsu Shi Chang living out his term of office before electing a new President, but immediately after his victory over Chang he turned abruptly around and drove out the Pekin President. He called in Li Yuan Hong, not to serve permanently, but only as a stepping-stone for him to climb up the Presidential chair, the goal of his political conspiracy and intrigue. The facts enumerated above were all reported in the foreign press and even in your paper. Besides Wu is not a democrat. Should he ever get the executive power of China the Chinese democracy is doomed. Therefore Wu cannot be trusted!

The present trouble in China is a war between the patriotic and constitutional elements, aligned with the Southern Government headed by Dr. Sun, and the reactionary element of the North headed by General Wu Pei Fu. The former stand for peace, prosperity and re-unification in China and international concort with all foreign powers, while the other element takes an adverse course.

Now in support of my contention the Southern Government legal and the Northern Government illegal, let me explain here briefly: In the year 1917 the Royalists successfully restored the Manchu Dynasty for a short time, forced Li Yuan Hong then President of China, to abdicate and Parliament to flee Pekin. Duin Kay Sui at once led an army against the Royalists and defeated them, but instead of recalling the proper Government to power, he formed a Government of his own without consent of the people. Parliament saw in this sinister action a motive to kill democracy in China. Therefore it immediately moved South and established in Canton and elected Dr. Sun President for whole of China. The powers knew this fact but for selfish ends they persisted in support of the North because that party serve them better in their exploitation of China.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times, July 5, 1897

Hon. Amor De Cosmos, Victoria's old political warhorse and pioneer newspaper man, the man who twenty years ago fought the battles of the city and province in the Commons, in the Legislature, and with his pen, is dead. Death came twenty minutes to nine o'clock yesterday morning. It was not unexpected, for on Thursday last deceased suffered from a stroke of paralysis and had been unconscious ever since.

Toronto, July 5.—Mr. M. J. Haney, manager of construction of the Crow's Nest Pass railway, was in town yesterday on his way to Fort McLeod, his headquarters for the present. Mr. Haney said, "Tenders for grading the first hundred miles of the Crow's Nest road will be received at Macleod on July 12 and 15."

London, July 3.—The outburst of anti-British feeling in the native press, both of Bengal and Bombay, for months past, has had the outcome which might have been expected in the outrages at Poonah and the rioting at Chitpore.

AGRICULTURAL SHOW

London, July 4.—(Canadian Press Cable). — The Royal Agricultural Snow opened at Cambridge to-day with the largest list of entries in the history of the exhibition, there being 4,200.

APPOINTED RADIOLOGIST

Dr. H. Rundle Nelson for Nine Years at Wililam Head Has New Post.

Dr. H. Rundle Nelson has been appointed whole-time radiologist at St. Joseph's Hospital. Dr. Nelson was the first X-ray practitioner in Victoria. Having taken a special course in England, he came to Victoria in 1904 bringing over his own X-ray equipment, and opening up a laboratory in which he devoted his time to this branch of work for several years.

During the last nine years he has been in charge of the Federal quarantine station at William Head, and is now returning to his former avocation. Dr. Nelson intends to give his entire time to X-ray and electro-theraphy at St. Joseph's Hospital, and will open an office in this institution.

Dr. Nelson left yesterday for an extended trip throughout the United States and Canada, where he will visit the different X-ray laboratories. Before returning to Victoria, he will take a post-graduate course at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn. During his absence, Dr. F. T. Stanier will be in charge of the X-ray work at St. Joseph's Hospital.

PRINCE'S AIDE TO MARRY HEIRESS

Marriage of Lord Louis Mountbatten to Miss Edwina Ashley Arranged

London, July 4.—It is understood that the marriage of Lord Louis Mountbatten and Miss Edwina Ashley will take place at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, on Tuesday, July 18.

This will be the wedding of the season, and it is expected that the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales—to whom the bridegroom, acted as naval A.D.C. on his Eastern tour—and other members of the Royal family will be present.

Miss Ashley's wedding-dress will be a classically cut gown of specially treated silver tissue, enriched with old family lace.

Lord Louis Mountbatten, who was 22 on June 25, is the younger son of the late Marquis of Milford Haven and brother of the present Marquis (formerly the Earl of Medina), who married Countess Nada Torby, younger daughter of the Grand Duke Michael and Countess Torby. He is very popular and is known to his friends as "Dicky."

Miss Edwina Ashley, a beautiful girl and a great heiress, is 21 this year and takes her Christian name from her godfather, the late King Edward. She is the elder daughter of Colonel Wilfrid Ashley, M.P., and the late Mrs. Ashley, only daughter of the late Sir Ernest Cassel. She was a great favorite with her grandfather, Sir Ernest Cassel, who, when he died last September, left her a fortune which made her one of the greatest heiresses in the country.

PROTESTANT HOME GRATEFUL FOR MANY KIND DONATIONS

Mrs. Griffiths was appointed corresponding secretary, a new office, at the monthly meeting of the committee of the Protestant Orphans' Home which met yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hiscock's, the vice-president, was in the chair, and the members present included Mesdames Walker, Griffiths, Scowcroft, Beard, Cameron, Fraser, Wilkerson, Hammond, Sherwood and the Misses Newbury and Denny. Mrs. Hammond and Miss Newbury, the visitors for the month of June, reported all the children in perfect health.

Donations for June which are thankfully acknowledged were as follows: Cloverdale, 100-lb. sack of sugar; Alberta Market, meat; Mrs. McHardy, rubbarb, lettuce; Miss Mary Spencer, fruit cake; Mrs. Andrew Stewart, clothing; Miss Gladys Croft, clothing; Mrs. Wilson, clothing; True Blue Lodge, meat, cake; Mrs. J. Day, meat; Miss May Croft, clothing; Colwood Golf and Country Club, meat, bread; Mrs. McDonald, 12 quarts jam; Cameron Lumber Co., load of wood; Mrs. Bradshaw, 12 jars of jelly; Mrs. Scowcroft, five tickets to Congregational Church concert; Police Chiefs' Convention, strawberries, ice cream; Chief Fry, two crates of strawberries; Ladies' Aid of St. Aidan's Church, box of candy; Miss Ross, 25 jars of jelly; Mrs. Whittier, clothing; Mrs. Longstaff, clothing; Miss Newbury, clothing; Mr. Davies, pail of strawberries; Kiwanians' picnic, cake, sandwiches; Lake Hill Community Centre, cake, sandwiches; Mrs. Higgins, 2 gallons ice cream; Woolworth Co., sundries; Reformed Episcopal Church picnic, cake, sandwiches; Victoria Circle King's Daughters, cash $5; Luney Bros., Limited, cash, $23.90; Dominion Theatre, through Mr. North, 44 children to hear "School Days," Mr. Mathews, 44 bags candy; Cameron & Calwell, tallyho; Emmanuel Baptist Sunday School picnic, bread; Oaklands Sunday School picnic, bread; Mr. Pollock, West Summerland, three crates of cherries; a friend, two crates of strawberries; a friend, patches; a friend, 30 pairs stockings, 4 small dresses; Victoria Circle King's Daughters, 2 petticoats, 1 apron, Kiwanians gave a picnic at Mr. Newton's, Oak Bay, and gave prizes of six pairs running shoes, ten pairs stockings, six pairs hair ribbons, and toys, also watch for the best boy during July. Professional services of Dr. Bryant and Dr. Lewis Hall; Times and Colonist daily.

ST. ANDREW'S PICNIC HELD AT MAYNE ISLAND

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday School picnic was held on Saturday at Mayne Island, and about 350 people left on the SS. Princess Adelaide.

The picnic was held in the grounds kindly placed at the disposal of the Sunday School by Bert Emery, of Mayne Island, and whose assistance in the way of providing hot water and tables for the guests was much appreciated.

A most enjoyable time was spent. In addition to swimming, songs and walks an excellent programme of sports helped to arouse considerable enthusiasm on the part of the young people. The prizes were eagerly competed for by all present, visitors as well as the Sunday School scholars.

The prizes, which were presented to the winners by Dr. Clay, were donated by the following: Messrs. John Cochrane, W. S. Terry, F. W. Francis, Mr. Rogers, John Bartholomew, Little & Taylor, George Brown, Shelly Bros., The Bootery, Drake Hardware Co., Windsor Candy Co., Vancouver Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., Hall's Drug Store, Darley's Candy Store, Weller Bros., Barber's Toy Shop, T. N. Hibben Co., Victoria Sporting Goods Co., Victoria Bible Depot, Henry Bros. and Fred. Burridge.

Thanks are also due to Little & Taylor, The Bootery and Crawford Coates for sale of tickets.

About 11 p.m. the Adelaide returned and brought to a close what was regarded by all present as one of the most successful picnics held by St. Andrew's Sunday School.

The success was largely brought about by the courtesy and consideration of the captain and crew of the steamer and the indefatigable efforts of the superintendent, Capt. Albert Robertson, Mr. William Erickson, Mr. John Simpson, Mr. Cobley and others.

Dr. Stowe-Gullen's Defeat In Women's Council Decisive

Incurred Much Resentment In National Body By Attitude on Soldiers' Pensions.

To many members of the Local Councils of Women in the West the recent election of Miss Carrie Carmichael as president of the National organizations doubtless came as a surprise, for there was the expectancy in the East as well as in the West that the mantle shed by Mrs. Sanford would fall upon the shoulders of Dr. Stowe-Gullen. Not only was Dr. Stowe-Gullen defeated in the presidency but she lost the vice-presidency of Ontario and the convenership of the Citizenship Committee.

Miss Carmichael, although comparatively little known on this side of the Rocky Mountains, is a daughter of the late Senator Carmichael of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia. She has been provincial vice-president for Nova Scotia and is now on her way home from The Hague, where she has been attending an executive meeting of the International Council of Women.

Defeat Explained.

The defeat of Dr. Stowe-Gullen, the favored candidate for the presidency, is explained in the following dispatch to The Toronto Globe:

"The big surprise of the whole convention was the defeat of Dr. Augusta Stowe Gullen for the presidency, but her attitude on the question of soldiers' pensions and dependents' welfare, when she was one of the three who voted for the committee's discontinuance, was largely responsible for her defeat."

When a plea was made that the National Council should continue its committee, which reported what was being done in Canada for soldiers and their dependents, Dr. Stowe-Gullen declared that organization was for reform.

Even when it was pleaded there was no more vital question for Canadian women to follow than the work for the men who had defended truth and honor, Dr. Stowe-Gullen voted to disband the National Council Committee for that purpose. Other people were doing it and even though the National Council was supposed to be a clearing house for all feminine activities and interests, Dr. Stowe-Gullen turned a deaf ear."

Wholesale Resentment.

According to The Globe's correspondent, delegates who claim to represent 500,000 organized women of Canada, resented such a stand by Dr. Stowe-Gullen.

Not only was she defeated for National president, but Dr. Stowe-Gullen has lost her vice-presidency of Ontario and another was elected in her place as convener of citizenship.

Dr. Stowe-Gullen's most outstanding war effort was her opposition to conscription and her denunciation of the Wartime Election Act. Even at Baltimore, when presumably representing Canada's federated club women, Dr. Stowe-Gullen denounced that wartime legislation which left so critical a decision, but in the hands of women with men at the front.

Miss M. A. Ellison, masseuse, has returned to Victoria from Seattle where she attended the convention of the American Graduate Nurses' Association. Miss Ellison has now recovered sufficiently from her ill health of the past two years to resume her practice and is also writing another book on "Massage," her first having run into three editions.

CAPRICIOUS HEIRESS SETS WEDDING DATE

Chicago, July 4.—Society had another thrill over the several times postponed wedding of Mary Landon Baker and Allister McCormick, when reports that the marriage is to take place finally in England on August 17 were published here to-day. The contemplated marriage attracted widest attention when Miss Baker left Mr. McCormick "waiting at the church" last year.

KUMTUKS CLUB TO SEND GREETINGS

Publicity Literature to Be Sent to Big Convention in Tennessee

At the monthly business meeting of the Kumtuks Club last evening the members decided to send a telegram conveying greetings to the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which will meet in Chattanooga, Tennessee, on July 10 to 15. The club regretted its inability to send a delegate to the convention, but is arranging with the Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau for literature description of Victoria to be sent to the convention for distribution.

Final plans were made for the picnic to be held on Monday evening next at the Summer camp of Mrs. E. E. Shaw at Macaulay Point at the foot of Head Street, Esquimalt. Tentative plans were also made for the entertainment of Miss Breuggerhof, of the Seattle Business Women's Club, who will be in Victoria about July 15. Miss Russell has kindly offered her home for an informal social evening in honor of the visitor, the arrangements for which will be in the hands of Madame Sanderson-Mongin.

Miss Macrae gave an interesting and enlightening paper on "Banking," which was much appreciated, in the unavoidable absence of Miss Lottie Bowron, the vice-president, Mrs. H. F. Hodges, was in the chair.

TO-MORROW'S FETE FOR BOY SCOUTS

Many Attractions at Beautiful Home of Mrs. Ross Sutherland

The beautiful gardens at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sutherland, 933 Fowl Bay Road, will be en fete to-morrow afternoon, when a host of attractions will have for their avowed object the raising of funds for that very commendable movement, the Boy Scouts' Association of Victoria. The fete will be under the patronage of the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Nichol.

The gardens in themselves are an unusually beautiful attraction, but for those patrons who seek other diversion there will be an attractive musical programme by leading artists, recitations by Miss Ella Pottinger, Miss Mary McFadden and Miss Rosemary Nasmith, students of the P.C. Academy of Dramatic Art; exhibitions of tumbling, signalling and ambulance work by Boy Scouts, and bowls and croquet for those who care for lawn games.

Bridge tables under the convenership of Mr. L. B. Kent are being arranged in the house, and there will also be a lucky dip in charge of Mrs. Rathom, guessing competitions, Mrs. Macdonald; Aunt Sally, in charge of Boy Scouts; candy stall, Mrs. Mortimer; cake guessing competition, Mrs. Edwardson, and trek card rides for children under the direction of Miss Hilliard.

Mr. Ross Sutherland is the Provincial Commissioner for the Boy Scouts, and he is confident that the general public will show its support of this excellent movement by generously patronizing to-morrow's fete.

HUNDRED PER CENT. CLUB TO HOLD PICNIC

The first general picnic of the Hundred Per Cent Club will be held to-morrow at Deep Bay, when members will meet at Smith and Champion's store on Douglas Street at one o'clock. Those who have not the facilities of transportation may take the B. C. Interurban at 1.30, and meet the main party at the bay where the programme for the day will be held. All those attending are requested to bring picnic baskets, sufficient for lunch and supper. These may be left at Smith and Champion's store. A sports programme will be held during the afternoon, while swimming will form part of the programme. Community singing conducted by R. R. Webb will be a feature of the day. All those attending are assured a good time.

Fry's Iced Chocolate

RECIPE: Keep on hand a syrup made up of one half cup of FRY'S Baking Chocolate, one cup of sugar, one cup of warm water. Stir until smooth. Then boil for 5 minutes—chill and add one half teaspoonful of vanilla extract. To serve, allow two tablespoonfuls of this syrup to a glass with a little chopped ice, and fill with cold milk. Stir well.

Try this cooling, delightful FRY drink. You'll want it often.

FRY'S Cocoa may also be used as above.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

RESCUE OF THE QUEEN
Part I.

Once upon a time by the shore of a large deep lake stood the castle of a king who had three sons. The eldest son, Prince Don, was a good, quiet boy. His father feared that he would never be equal to ruling a kingdom as large as his for he had done no daring deeds such as his brothers. Prince Otto or Prince Nardo, both of whom had been in battles and won a war for their father.

And so when the king grew old and had not many years to live Prince Otto and Prince Nardo went to their father and told him they thought one of them should reign after him.

"We will take care of our brother, Prince Don," said Prince Otto. "He shall always have a home with us, but he is not strong enough to be a king."

This the old king agreed to, but upon which head the crown should be placed the king could not decide, and the brothers, of course, could not agree, for each wanted to become king.

He looked from his window

At last the old king said, "I have a few more years to live, I am sure, and in that time the one who does the bravest deed shall reign in my place." And so it was settled and Prince Otto and his brother, Prince Nardo, went out into the world to seek for the chance to show their bravery.

Prince Don, of course, stayed at home with his father, and though he should have become king by right of his birth he did not want the crown and held no ill feelings towards his brothers or his father.

Now across the lake, which was very wide, was a forest and something very strange was happening there. Every night at the magic hour of midnight there arose in the midst of the trees a castle of white marble, and when the moonlight fell upon it the castle looked like silver.

But no sign of this castle was to be seen in the daytime; only the tall trees such as make up all forests could be seen from the castle on the opposite side of the big lake.

But one night when the moon was shining, making the lake and the gardens of the castle where lived Prince Don look like fairyland, the prince could not sleep, for he heard strains of sweet music from across the lake.

Prince Don arose from his bed and looked from his window, wondering where the music could come from, when his astonished eyes beheld the marble palace glistening silvery in the moonlight.

Now Prince Don was not bold and daring as his brothers were. He did not want to go into battle and kill his fellow men, but he was not a coward, and when he saw the castle, which he knew had not been there the day before, he quickly dressed and went to the side of the lake.

Yes, the castle could be plainly seen. It was not a dream, as he at first had thought. He would swim across and find out what strange thing was happening on the other side of the lake.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

The annual picnic of the First Presbyterian Church, which was held at the Uplands point recently, was voted a great success by those who attended. The entire church turned out to his grand yearly gathering, and an enjoyable time was spent by all. Committees were appointed to look after the various arrangements in connection with the picnic. All the assistance that was required was given by the numerous classes, who took up their duties in an admirable manner. A splendid sports programme was held during the afternoon. A list of thirty events, covering every possible competition that could be thought of, that would be suitable for the occasion, was arranged. Following the sports the presentation of the prizes took place and excitement was rife at this feature of the day. All members of the church joined in the treasure hunt, which proved a novel feature of the day. Baseballs and various other prizes were secluded in numerous caches in the woods and shrubs. Swimming was indulged in by the children, while the entire Sunday School did justice to the excellent repasts set for them at lunch and supper time. The transportation of the picnic to the grounds was performed without a flaw, the committees in charge having the arrangements well in hand. That the day was a success was very evident from the remarks and comments made upon the wonderful time those who attended had.

The One Unwanted

By RUBY M. AYRES

INSTALMENT No. 32

"You can make me the happiest woman in the world," I said.

"I'm ashamed to, the depths of my soul," he answered.

"Of loving me?" I asked tremulously.

"Of being so unworthy," he answered.

I tried to laugh.

"Do you want to make me believe that I've got a halo?" I asked shakily.

And then, because I was so happy, I cried again, and it was his turn to comfort me, and it was a long time before we both got sensible and sane enough to think of to-morrow and what we could do.

And Mark said: "You must leave this to me, Sally."

"And—and Lionel?" I faltered, and a real throb of pain stabbed my heart as I thought of his happy face as he had left me that night, and I broke out passionately:

"Oh, why can't everybody be happy? Why has someone always got to suffer?"

We were home then, and Mark gave me one last kiss before he opened the door and held his hand to me.

He smiled as our eyes met, though I trembled from head to foot as we went up to the front door together.

The servant who admitted us looked amazed to see me coming in at that time of night, hatless and coatless and in the company of a strange man, but I don't think either of us cared, though I saw Mark's face quiver as if with pain as he saw how the hall was decorated with white flowers for to-morrow's wedding, and he held my hand hard for a minute before he left me and went into the library to father.

I sat on the stairs, my hands clasped in my lap, and tried to be brave. I knew that father would rave and swear, and that mother would probably have a violent fit of hysterics. And Lionel . . . oh, poor Lionel! The tears burned my eyes as I thought of him for he had been good to me, and I was fond of him, though fondness is not loving.

Then presently the library door opened and father came out. He looked as if he could have killed me as I rose to my feet and waited for him to speak, and his voice was strangled and apoletic as he ordered me into the room.

Mark was standing there, his face quite colorless, but his head erect, and he held out his hand when he saw me and I ran to him.

And father said:

"If it is true that you have decided to break my heart and your mother's and create a scandal by marriage with this . . . this . . . man, you can go to-night — you understand. You will not sleep another night in my house . . .". He paused. "Well, you can choose," he repeated, as I did not speak.

I looked at Mark. He was as white as death, but he tried to smile.

"It's for you to choose, dear," he said. "I have nothing to offer you, as you know. But if you'll take me . . . I swear to God that you shall never repent it as long as we both live!"

I think that was the happiest moment of my life. Deep in my heart I seemed to know that he spoke the truth, and that we stood together then on the threshold of the only true happiness life can offer.

I stood up on tiptoe and kissed him. Then I walked towards the door.

"I suppose I may fetch my hat and coat," I said.

Father's rage exploded. He shouted and stormed at me till mother and Winnie came downstairs to see what was the matter, and the whole miserable scene was enacted over again.

Mother took it very quietly, on the whole, but she said one bitter thing which I shall never forget.

"Sally has always been my greatest disappointment. I suppose she always will be." And then, with a burst of tears: "Whatever will everybody think?"

But she refused to allow me to be turned out that night, and quite early the following morning, almost before anyone was about, I drove away in a hired carriage and was married to Mark Anderson by special license. It was a very different wedding from the one that had been planned for me, but I had never been so happy.

Mark had seen Lionel late the night before, and just as we were leaving the registry office a messenger boy brought me a note from him.

"My Dear—I am wishing you all the happiness I should have tried to give you myself. God bless you!"

There were tears in my eyes as I showed it to Mark, and I saw his own cloud over as he said:

"I wonder if you realize all that you are giving up."

And I answered:

"I wonder if you realize that I have got the only thing I ever wanted."

"What was that?" he asked, though I am sure he knew.

"To be your wife," I said softly.

It is three years now since Mark and I were married, and we are out in New Zealand and very happy, all the more so because just six months ago a small daughter arrived on the scene to look at me with Mark's eyes.

And because I am safely out of the way, they have forgiven me at home for what they chose to consider my disgraceful conduct, and I have even heard indirectly that because Mark is doing quite well, although nobody thought he would ever make a shilling, mother occasionally refers to "my son-in-law" in New Zealand" as if half the colony belongs to him, and in a letter I received from home just before baby was born, mother graciously said:

"We are all hoping that it will be a boy, but I am quite prepared to hear that my first grandchild has turned out to be a girl."

"Meaning," I said, as Mark and I read the letter together, "that, seeing it's me, everything is bound to be wrong!"

Mark pulled me down to him and kissed me.

And though baby did turn out to be a girl, she wasn't, as I was, the one unwanted! And only the other day Mark said:

"I used to think there was nothing else in the world left to wish for, but now . . ." And he looked across at baby with a comical mixture of pride and embarrassment.

"She's the most beautiful darling in all the world," I said, and then, as he laughed, I added imperiously: "Say so at once! Do you hear me?"

"Well, except for her mother, I really believe she is," said Mark.

I looked up at him rather wistfully.

"Do you still love me best of all?" I asked.

Mark's brown face flushed as he bent to kiss me.

"Best of all, queen of my heart," he said softly.

And so he does, I know! So he always will.

"It will be right for me, anyway," he said.

KILTIES AND FRIENDS WILL CROSS STRAITS

16th Battalion to Hold Excursion to Port Angeles by Princess Adelaide Aug. 2

Wednesday, August 2, was last night fixed by the 16th Battalion as the date for its first annual excursion. The steamer Princess Adelaide of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been secured and will leave on the weekly half holiday date at the beginning of next month with members of the battalion, and as many of their friends as the steamer will accommodate, for it is anticipated that this alone will limit the attendance in view of the special attractions offered, for Port Angeles, Washington.

Invitations to the 16th have been received from the Mayor and the Commercial Club of Port Angeles who state that nothing will be left undone to make the excursion a great event. The executive secretary of the Port Angeles Commercial Club says: "We shall look forward to Wednesday, August 2, as a red letter day for Victoria and Port Angeles."

The brass band under leadership of Bandmaster Miller and the pipe band under Piper Major Craigmyle will accompany the excursion and there will be dancing on board the steamer, and also at Port Angeles where the Elks Tennis slab is being prepared for this purpose. The civic ball park is being placed at the disposal of the excursionists for the sports, and other grounds also if required. The excursion will be a basket picnic, and the Port Angeles people state that there is plenty of pure water available, and two ovens with fuel, and tables with seats, and hot water ready for use will be made available.

Ironized Yeast supplies your system with certain vital elements now lacking in your food — the very elements needed to keep you strong, energetic and healthy. In addition, it embodies the new scientific process of ironization—the process which enables yeast to bring results just twice as quickly. Get Ironized Yeast from your dealers to-day or mail postcard for Famous Three-Day Test. Address Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Dept. 90, Toronto. Ironized Yeast is recommended and guaranteed by all good dealers. (Advt.)

RADIO STATION IN ALASKA NOW BROADCASTS

Nome, Alaska, July 4.—The first radio broadcasting telephone set "North of fifty-three" has been installed here.

A little set installed under direction of Captain C. H. Burkhead of the United States Signal Corps station at Nome was operated for the first time last night. Music was heard at St. Michael and at Nulato, on the Yukon River, 225 miles distant.

SHOWS VALUE OF WEATHER WORK

Forecasts Save Crops and Forests, Mr. Denison Declares

How scientific weather forecasting is saving crops from frosts, forests from fire and farms from flooding was explained to the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon in the Dominion Hotel to-day by F. Napier Denison, superintendent of Gonzales Meteorological Observatory.

Mr. Denison told how his observatory here receives weather reports from all over the continent every day and is able to gauge with considerable accuracy the course of storms and other weather. The facilities for gathering information about the weather, he said, were being improved by radio messages from ships at different points in the Pacific. As British Columbia's weather comes from the Pacific the value of these messages was very great, he stated. It was hoped, he added, to extend the present storm-warning systems as far north as Prince Rupert.

The observatory here, said Mr. Denison, was able to do much for farmers by warning them of frosts in the spring and in the Autumn. Recently it had been possible to forecast droughts and anticipate the length of their duration, thus enabling farmers to know how much water to use in their irrigation. Information about droughts also was of the utmost value to the forestry authorities in fighting forest fires, he said. By knowing when heavy rainfall was approaching the observatory was able to warn farmers of approaching floods.

This will be an unusually dry year, Mr. Denison said. So far much less than the average rainfall had fallen. In fact, he anticipated that the total rainfall would be twenty-four or twenty-five inches, although the average was twenty-seven inches, and last year thirty-four inches fell. Observations over the last quarter of a century showed that a dry year always followed the year of maximum rainfall, he explained.

The Kiwanis Club was entertained to-day by George Green, the talented local cornet player.

TALTHYBIUS NOW COMING FROM EAST

The Ixion is expected to get away from Ogden Point late to-day for Seattle to complete her outward cargo.

A PROPHET IN YOUR OWN COUNTRY

A large majority of the important events in the business and even home life in this city have their conception in the columns of The Times classified advertisements. To keep in touch with these ads is to be quite a prophet. They forecast incidents of the hour and the hurrying hours to come.

You may look into the future by reading the classified ads of The Times.

The news columns inform you of the comings and goings of kings, but the classified columns tell you of the comings and goings of cooks and stenographers. They disclose exchange opportunities of automobiles and real estate. Through them you will find desk space or range land.

CANADA STEAMSHIP LINES, LIMITED

JOHN F. PIERCE
PASSENGER TRAFFIC MANAGER

MONTREAL, December 15, 1921.
A-25

Canadian Daily Newspapers Association,
902 Excelsior Life Building,
Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Sirs:

Years ago, the newspaper announcements that were put out by the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, were merely time tables telling when the ships sailed. Of later years, however, large copy has been run in the daily newspapers in those cities that were fairly accessible to points of sailing, telling of the many attractions that were offered in a trip by boat.

Right through the season for the past few years, boat trips have been most popular. 1920 was the finest passenger year the Company ever had. 1921, despite the fact that business was so unsettled, shows but a 7% decrease in passenger traffic over 1920.

Time after time, ships for special cruises, as, for example, those from Montreal to the Saguenay and from Montreal to Newfoundland, have been filled through advertising in the dailies. Next year, as in the past few years, the daily newspapers will be the backbone of this Company's advertising.

With best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,

Jno F Pierce

Passenger Traffic Manager.

The ranks of those to whom sea, sky, and scenic beauty call in vacation time, change from day to day as seasons come and go. Advertising thus becomes to them news of the day. They search for it in the daily newspaper which commands immediate consideration as a part of daily life.

SHIP'S STORES WERE STOLEN AND SOLD ASHORE

Charge Brought Against a Member of Jefferson's Crew at Hongkong

Looting of ship's stores and disposing of them ashore was a charge brought against a ship's boatswain employed aboard the Admiral liner President Jefferson while the vessel was at Hongkong.

A fine of $250 with the alternative of two months' imprisonment was imposed. The articles included in the charge of stealing were 18 tins of paint, 2 barrels of red lead, 5 tins of raw linseed oil, 10 block shackles, a quantity of Manila rope and a canvas ventilator about 70 feet long.

The evidence at the trial indicated that others were implicated in the sale of ship's stores. The Hongkong magistrate, in commenting upon the case, stated that while the case against the boatswain was proven, he did not think he was the "principal mover." The evidence showed that the practice was uncovered when stores were noticed being lowered from the ship into a junk. Inquiry into the matter led to the arrest of an American sailor and four Chinese. Three of the Chinese were later released, while one was held and charged with "receiving with guilty knowledge."

In the pocket of the Chinese defendant was found a typed pass giving him permission to take goods away to the value of $400. The pass, it was alleged, was not a legitimate one.

Trouble With Crew.

Considerable trouble was experienced with the American crew of the President Jefferson throughout the voyage, it was alleged by ship's officers following the arrival of the Admiral ship in port here to-day.

The President Jefferson is the only vessel of the Admiral Line's trans-Pacific fleet carrying an "all-white" crew, but the officers give it another name.

LINER NILE DUE HERE THURSDAY

The Pacific Mail liner Nile, which is bringing a party of Shriners here from Honolulu, is expected to make this port early Thursday morning. Capt. J. T. Kinley reports by radio that he expects to make quarantine by 5 a.m. on Thursday. The ship will remain here two days to give the visitors an opportunity of exploring ashore.

PHILIPPINE SUGAR EXPORTS GROWING

Output Next Season Will Be 268,000 Tons, Say Sugar Growers

Charlie T. Lewis, general superintendent of the Talisay-Silay Milling Company, Talisay, Philippine Islands, and A. M. McKeever, manager of the Hawaiian-Philippine Company, Silay, P. I., were prominent Philippine sugar men arriving here to-day from Manila by the liner President Jefferson.

Mr. Lewis stated that the sugar market in the Philippines was showing a marked improvement, and exports to the United States were becoming heavier.

He pointed out that the centrifugal sugar output for the Philippine Islands this year was 228,000 tons. Next year, he stated, the output would amount to 268,000 tons.

Practically the entire sugar output of the Philippine Islands is taken care of by the United States and handled by the big Eastern refiners.

PACED BRIDGE IN FOG ALL NIGHT

CAPT. F. R. NICHOLLS

Commander of the Admiral liner President Jefferson, in port this morning from the Orient

LINER CELEBRATED FOURTH ON ARRIVAL

SS. President Jefferson Had Gay Appearance on Docking To-day from Orient

Decorated with flags and with fireworks spluttering about her steel decks, the American liner President Jefferson, of the Admiral Line celebrated the "Glorious Fourth" on her arrival here early to-day from the Far East.

Everything bore a festive appearance, from the smiling countenances of the passengers to the flag bedyards intertwining the "petrified forest" fore and aft.

The President Jefferson, Capt. F. R. Nichols, reached quarantine at 5.30 o'clock this morning after a foggy passage from Japan. The ship arrived at Pier 2, Outer Docks, at 8 o'clock. Capt. Nichols reported a good voyage apart from dense fogs which shut down at intervals during the passage. It was very foggy outside last night and the skipper spent the night on the bridge.

The President Jefferson had 86 first class passengers and 90 Chinese in the steerage. Nine cabin and 74 Chinese steerage passengers came ashore here.

The first class passengers disembarking here were: Mr. and Mrs. G. McIntosh, of West Kilbride, Scotland; Professor H. D. Thompson, of Princeton University, who is returning to New York after touring the Orient; Mrs. H. D. Thompson; Miss K. L. Perkins, of St. Louis, Mo.; J. A. Raynes, of New York; F. F. Linim of Vancouver; Mrs. Y. Shee, of Vancouver and Master W. Sun, of Vancouver.

Of the through passengers, Mrs. W. R. Langdon, the wife of American consul at Yokohama, is en route from Japan to Kensington, Md. Lieut. A. Ribet, a French military officer, is on his way to Paris.

The President Jefferson discharged some freight here and proceeded to Seattle following the arrival of the Port Townsend quarantine officer by the steamer Sol Duc.

TRIP WAS NOVELTY TO THIS MARINER

Capt. J. M. Lane, Drexel Yacht Skipper, Here from Orient on Jefferson—

Travels as Passenger for First Time in Fifty Years at Sea

Capt. J. M. Lane, who at one time was master of the ill-fated steamer Valencia, and for ten years commander of the palatial steam yacht Alcedo in the service of George W. Childs Drexel, was an interesting passenger arriving here from the Orient to-day aboard the SS. President Jefferson. "I have been in the shipping business for fifty years, but this is the first time that I have traveled as a passenger," said Capt. Lane, who delightedly explained that his trip across the Pacific was his first real vacation. And it was brought about by circumstances over which he had no control.

Sustained Injury.

Capt. Lane was master of the Barber Line freighter Dryden at Hongkong recently when he had a fall and hurt his head, the doctor attending him prescribing a complete rest. So Capt. Lane decided to return to his home in Philadelphia and took passage from Hongkong by the President Jefferson.

He started his sea career in 1870, and has been sailing ever since.

On This Coast.

He was on the Pacific coast in the early days and sailed between Seattle and Alaska from 1885 to 1904. He commanded the Valencia, but left that vessel a year or two before she was wrecked with terrible loss of life off the west coast of Vancouver Island. He is an old friend of Pilot "Buck" Bailey, of Seattle, and many others in the seafaring business on this coast.

Commanded Alcedo.

George W. Childs' Drexel's steam yacht Alcedo, which Capt. Lane commanded for a decade, was built for the Rothchild's and was a palatial pleasure craft of 1,100 tons and 300 feet long. She cruised with her owner largely in the Mediterranean. When the United States entered the European war, the Alcedo, among many other craft, was taken over by the American government and ultimately purchased.

Capt. Lane entered the service of the Barber Line, operating out of New York, his last vessel being the Dryden, which he recently turned over to another master at Hongkong.

George W. Childs Drexel is planning to purchase another yacht, and in that event Capt. J. M. Lane will again enter the multi-millionaire's service.

NOTED VISITORS TO COME FROM ORIENT

Duc and Duchesse de Talleyrand Shortly Expected from Japan

The Duc and Duchesse de Talleyrand were the guests of Capt. F. R. Nicholls, commander of the Admiral liner President Jefferson en route from Shanghai to Yokohama. The descendant of the famous Napoleonic statesman and his wife, who before marriage was the famous beauty Anna Gould, have been touring the countries of Near East and Far East and are now loitering in Japan on their way back to Paris via the United States.

They propose to take passage by one of the succeeding Admiral liners from Yokohama, and will make a short stay in Victoria before proceeding east via Seattle.

COLLISION INQUIRY HAS BEEN ORDERED

Montreal, July 4.—An official inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the collision between the steamer Cairndhu and the tug Spray near Lanorae, on the St. Lawrence River on Saturday will be commenced on Wednesday. Five men and a woman were drowned in the disaster.

SHIPS COLLIDE IN COAST FOG

SS. William S. McKinney Slightly Damaged by Ginyo Maru off Montara

San Francisco, July 4.—The Japanese steamer Ginyo Maru and the steamship Wm. A. McKinney collided early this morning in a fog off the Montara Lighthouse, 16 miles south of the Golden Gate, according to wireless message received here at four o'clock this morning, and relayed to the Marine department of the Chamber of Commerce. The message was sent out by the Ginyo Maru. Neither vessel was seriously damaged.

The McKinney, bound from San Francisco to New York, backed off from the crash with a badly dented hull, but was proceeding south unaided, wireless reports said. She will put into San Diego for repairs. The Wm. A. McKinney flies the flag of the Sudden and Christensen Line of San Francisco.

The Ginyo reached San Francisco about four hours after the collision with the plates along thirty feet of her starboard bow badly dented and ripped.

TONNAGE THROUGH SAN FRANCISCO PORT SHOWS STEADY GAIN

San Francisco, July 4.—Tonnage movements through the port of San Francisco showed gains in both inbound and outbound traffic for June over May, according to figures by the Marine department of the Chamber of Commerce. Steam tonnage arriving was 902,011 tons and sailing tonnage 12,703, to total of 914,717 tons compared with 885,753 tons for May. Outbound steam tonnage was 862,507 tons, sailing 11,439 tons, a total of 873,946 tons, a gain of 14,234 tons over May.

Total vessels inbound and outbound in June were 969, while in May there were 947.

The Matson freighter Manulani, in its triangular trip from San Francisco to the Hawaiian Islands via Puget Sound has set what is believed a record for rapid handling of freight. In ten trips it had handled in and out of its holds an average of 3,050 tons of freight a day during sixteen and a half days in port. The 50,380 tons handled in the ten trips included 2,000,000 feet of lumber out of Puget Sound ports.

"INVADERS" GOT BACK THEIR RIFLES

Canadian Bisley Team Had Amusing Experience at Liverpool

London, July 4.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The Canadian Bisley team which is to compete in the National Rifle Association's annual shooting matches at Bisley had an amusing experience after arrival at Liverpool. The marksmen's rifles were temporarily detained in the customs there because of an oversight in the matter of obtaining a permit to bring firearms into Great Britain. However the intentions of the invaders was apparent, and the British law was quickly made to bend to the extent of overcoming the difficulty, and the crack riflemen from Canada received permission to proceed with their firearms.

NEWS IN BRIEF

To Present Cup.—Esquimalt Council has decided to give a cup to the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association for the July sports.

Victoria West Brotherhood — A meeting of the Victoria West Brotherhood will be held this evening to make arrangements for the picnic and a garden party. The latter will be held during August.

Garden Fete at Foul Bay—The senior girls of St. Matthias W. A. will hold a garden fete on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Green 347 Fowl Bay Road. There will be stalls for the sale of plain and fancy work, garden produce, ice cream and candy.

Fishing Is Good.—Holiday fishermen returned to the city over the week-end report fine catches at Sproat Lake, where six-pound trout have been taken, and also at Deep Bay. The latter place is now the haunt of spring salmon, which are being caught in numbers.

Gizeh Shrine Club — The annual basket picnic of Gizeh Shrine Club will be held at Goldstream on Wednesday, July 26, commencing at 3 o'clock, and all members of the Masonic fraternity and their families are cordially invited to attend. There will be a good programme of sports and races, and tea, coffee, sugar and milk will be supplied to all free of charge.

Police Extend Thanks.—The earnest thanks of the Victoria Police Department to all those who aided in making the convention of Chief Constables in this city such a success, was extended on behalf of that department by Chief of Police John Fry to-day. The visiting chiefs went away delighted with their cordial reception and entertainment.

Christening and Celebration.—The regular meeting of Queen of the Island Lodge, L. O. B. A., will be held on Thursday evening at 7.30 in the Orange Hall. The business session will be followed at 9 o'clock by the christening of Mrs. Lory's baby, after which the seventh anniversary of the lodge will be celebrated by a banquet in the large hall at which Rev. J. L. Batty and Rev. Mr. Frank will speak.

Executive Meets.—The executive of the Army and Navy Veterans held its regular meeting in the association's clubrooms last evening, when regular business was transacted. The report showed that new members are being added to the roll every month. Several matters of importance were laid over till the next general meeting, which will be held on Thursday, July 13.

Guild of Health.—The Rev. T. E. Rowe will address the members and friends of the Guild of Health in the Cathedral schoolroom to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, and may be consulted between 10.30 and 12.30 on Wednesday morning at 1126 Richardson Street. The Bible student class, conducted by Mr. Rowe, will meet at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the Church of Our Lord.

In Police Court.—John Horne, who told the city police court he was a citizen of Port Angeles and had come to this city with $100 in his pocket, was persuaded by the court to leave $50 of that sum behind, on being convicted of being under the influence of liquor. While in jail the accused broke a window of the cells, and will be asked to pay for this damage. J. D. McCoy was fined for a similar breach of the Liquor Act.

G. A. U. V. Officers—Officers of the Grand Army of United Veterans chosen last evening were: President, P. Crouch; first vice-president, Comrade M. McCaig; second vice-president, Comrade R. Bent; treasurer, Comrade J. H. Eva; sergeant-at-arms, Comrade A. Caskie; executive council, Comrades W. Hanson, R. Harrison, J. Higgins, C. Ferguson and E. W. Leask. The meeting decided to forward to the Minister of Defence, Ottawa, a resolution protesting against the closing of the Naval College at Esquimalt.

Community Centre Meeting.—A meeting of the Lake Hill Community Centre took place last evening at the home of H. O. Kirkham. W. G. Peirce presided. Reports of the various committees were received. From a garden party on June 24, about $100 was obtained at this function. Cheques from various business concerns of the city were received by the Centre as contributions toward the building fund. On Friday evening another meeting of the Centre will be held at the home of W. G. Gaunce, Craigmiller Avenue.

Police Will Compete.—All ready to establish their claim to the tug-of-war trophy, a team from the Victoria City Police will leave to-night on the boat for Vancouver, where they will compete in the Vancouver police sports. As Seattle is competing this year, unusual interest centres in the event. The local team is composed of Sergeant Florence, Sgt. Littlefield, Constables Burnett, Raines, Drever, Bishop (spare), Forster, Acting Detective McLellan, Drivers Wilkinson and Jones, the last named being the captain. The Victoria police team is very light, but equally willing, and hopes run high.

Emmanuel Baptist S. S.—The Sunday School of the Emmanuel Baptist Church held their annual picnic at the Uplands on Saturday, leaving in the early morning in automobiles. Lunch and supper was served by the Ladies' Aid under the convenership of Mrs. C. Clapham. Sports were the main feature of the day and in the evening a community sing was held under the leadership of Mr. Fred Parfitt and the choir. Mayor Marchant and Mr. R. Chave, superintendent of the Sunday School had charge of the sports.

CEMETERY BONDS SELL WELL; START WORK IN TWO WEEKS

Bonds issued to pay for the establishment of the new Intermunicipal Cemetery near Royal Oak are selling at par to yield five and one-half per cent. on the open market. The Intermunicipal Board sold the bonds for 97.25. The bonds are regarded as a gilt-edge security, as they are guaranteed by Victoria and Saanich.

The Intermunicipal Cemetery Board met last night and passed a number of accounts and approved banking arrangements in connection with the bond issue. Work on the new cemetery will start about the middle of the month, it was announced to-day. Work is being held up until the annual grain crop, grown on part of the cemetery land, can be harvested.

SLANDER APPEAL ENTERS THIRD DAY

Appeal Court Hearing Carlow vs. North Proceeds

The hearing of Carlow vs. North entered upon its third day in the Appeal Court sittings to-day with counsel still engaged on preliminary objections that had been advanced at the trial of the action for alleged slander, in the lower courts. Stuart Henderson, who is appearing with J. B. Clearihue for the appellant, Police Commissioner Joseph North, resumed his argument to-day, holding that the jury at the trial before Mr. Justice Morrison had been misdirected. A finding brought in upon misdirection was useless, contended counsel, who cited a lengthy list of authorities on the point. The hearing is proceeding.

The peremptory list includes Macdonald vs. North; Carlow, Macdonald and Siciliano vs. Hall, and Siciliano vs. North.

CAPTAIN HOLMES TO LECTURE IN CITY

As a result of his travels, which have been extensive since the close of the Great War, Captain Hartley Holmes, Royal Garrison Artillery, of Woking, England, will have an interesting lecture to deliver at the new Drill Hall on Thursday evening.

Captain Holmes, who is a graduate of Kingston Military College, is now visiting his uncle, Colonel Holmes, here. He will take his subject from Palestine, which affords special interest of an historical, racial and political aspect. He extends a particular welcome to all service men who were in touch with that part of the world and served elsewhere to attend, and to see a fine set of pictures.

Captain Holmes has given the address at West Point Academy and at Kingston, and everywhere has been cordially received.

The lecture will commence at 8.30 o'clock and admission, which will be free, should be made by the north entrance.

CONTINUE FIGHT FOR LOWER POWER RATES IN VICTORIA

Council Representative to Investigate Vancouver Rates

A representative of the City Council will go to Vancouver shortly to investigate electrical power rates in force there in an effort to have power rates here reduced to a scale corresponding to that in effect on the Mainland, it was learned at the City Hall to-day.

The Civic Legislative Committee, which has inaugurated a fight for lower light and power rates, has conferred on the matter with the B. C. Electrical Railway Company. No progress in the negotiations for lower rates, however, has been made. The company has informed the Legislative Committee that the city does not fully understand the power rate situation.

It is to find out exactly how much Vancouver people are paying for power as compared to the price paid by Victorians that the Council representative will go to the Mainland soon.

The Legislative Committee feels that lower power rates are necessary if Victoria is to develop as an industrial port. New industries, the committee believes, must lower power rates if they are to establish factories here.

MANY INDIGENT SICK NEED HELP

Friendly Help Appeals for Donations in Cash and Kind

The regular monthly meeting of the Friendly Help Association was held at the rooms in the Market Building this morning, fourteen members being present. Mrs. J. S. T. Alexander was welcomed as a member of the association.

The secretary reported that 133 families, representing 529 persons, were given assistance during the month of June. Several new cases were dealt with during the month. The funds of the association have had a great many demands upon them lately and are very low. Notwithstanding the warm weather, times are still very hard, and many women and children and sick persons have to be assisted every month. The association, therefore, is compelled to send out another appeal for funds, and would be also very grateful for contributions of fruit and vegetables of all kinds. All contributions should be sent to the Market Building, Cormorant Street.

Cash from the City, A Friend, Miss Douglas, In Memory of 5th June, Miss A. M. Russell, Miss Mara, Mrs. Solly, Thank-Offering, C. C. Cooper, Burnside Dairy, Dorothy and Vivienne, C. F. Todd, J. E. Painter & Son, Victoria City Dairy Co. and A Sincere Friend.

Clothing from Mrs. McIlree, Mrs. D. Gillespie, Mrs. Ryder, Oak Bay Hotel, Mrs. Raymur, Mr. A. Little, Mrs. Brae, Miss Thom, Mrs. Foggo, Mrs. English, Mrs. W. Walker, Mrs. Field, Mrs. Dillabough, Mrs. K. C. Campbell, Mr. MacIntosh, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Honey, Mrs. F. W. Hartley, Mrs. White, Mrs. Syson, Mrs. Futcher, Miss Keast, Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. N. Payne, Miss M. Stark, A. McKeown, Mrs. Joe Wilson, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, Mrs. Dimmick, Mrs. Hennell and Mrs. Hedley.

Sixteen new garments from Happy Hearts and Helping Hands.

Shoes from Mrs. Grey.

Eggs from Peris.

Jam from Mrs. D. Gillespie and Mrs. Maxwell.

FINDS LUMBER BUSINESS BETTER

parts of Minnesota, Illinois and Indiana, have large parties of people ready to tour who have not yet learned of the beauties of the Pacific Northwest, and particularly of Vancouver Island. Even in the Union depot at St. Paul on coming out he had to explain where Victoria was located. He mentioned that as an instance of the lack of knowledge of this section by people in the transportation business in the Central States, and said there was a large field of business to be secured in the parties who were coming through to the Yellowstone Park, and other famous beauty resorts of the Western part of America. What he believed would be most beneficial to this section would be to take a leaf from the book of the publicity organizations in Florida, and follow up general advertising with personal correspondence. From that correspondence a large number of replies were received, and that persons replying were supplied with data, and transportation information which made Florida better known in the Northern Central States than portions of the United States much nearer to the home of the prospective travelers.

"There is the business," he said "if you can get it, the largest ever reported."

Mr. Connor, who is accompanied by his family, expects to be in the city for some days.

with Councillor Harold F. Hewlett in the chair. Due to the absence of the Reeve the members declined to make any official announcement of policy to The Times, but it is understood that several reasons are behind the move to put a stop to racing. The decision was not arrived at without considerable discussion, and after viewing the case pro and con from every possible angle, it was intimated.

Wish License Control.

When the Provincial Legislature sits in the Fall it is thought certain that the Council will apply for a measure to give municipalities the absolute control of race meets by way of license, subject to revocation for abuse of the privilege.

On legal advice the Oak Bay Council found it was possible to prohibit racing entirely, and has taken this step, in default of finding any other method that would put a stop to uncontrolled gambling.

A New Angle.

At the moment the City Council stands 6-5 in favor of racing, under the auspices of the B. C. Agricultural Association, with the question to be brought for re-consideration before a Council meeting next week.

CAPITOL

A puzzling murder mystery, the solution of which involves a romantic climax and a picture which holds the audience from the first scene to the last, is "For the Defence," a Paramount picture starring Ethel Clayton, which was shown at the Capitol Theatre last night.

The characterizations are strong and effective. Vernon Steele, leading man, plays the district attorney. ZaSu Pitts, is Jennie Dunn, Bertram Grassby again shows versatility as the mysterious Dr. Kasimir, a Hindu hypnotist whose murder almost involves two innocent persons. Othess are Maym Kelso, Sylvia Ashton and Mabel Van Buren.

The court room scenes are gripping and the mystery reaches a smashing surprise climax. Miss Clayton is excellent as Anne Woodstock, the heroine. Elmer E. Rice, author of "On Trial," wrote the story. Beulah Marie Dix adapted it to the screen, Paul Powell directed, and the photography was by Hal Rosson.

DOMINION

Could you call them "voluntary widows?"

Reno, Nevada, where it is said that, during the "season," there are perhaps a thousand or more women who are chafed by the "tie that binds," is only a few miles from Truckee, Cal., which is a favorite spot for motion picture companies to visit when they want plenty of snow. Truckee's climatic facilities were largely made use of by Penrhyn Stanlaws, Paramount producer, in the filming of "Over the Border," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

Several delegations composed largely of would-be divorcees came over from Reno to Truckee for the purpose of watching the Stanlaws company make pictures in the snow. Though there is no direct evidence on the point, it was suggested that the presence of Tom Moore, as the leading man, added to the attraction. However, that may be, the onlookers could easily see that Tom was entirely engrossed with his charming young wife, Renee Adoree, who accompanied him on the trip.

"Over the Border," which features Betty Compson and Mr. Moore, is a story of the rum-running activities along our northern boundary. The supporting cast includes several well-known players.

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

Capitol—"For the Defence."
Dominion—"Over the Border."
Columbia—"Five Days to Live."
Royal—"A Virgin Paradise."

ROYAL VICTORIA

"A Virgin Paradise," the William Fox special, created a sensation at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night, where it began a four days' run. The startling contrasts between the quiet life on Long Island, where the millionaire Peter Latham lives, and the jungle life on a South Sea Island where his brother toils as a missionary among the natives, are striking enough, but the scenes showing the devastation of the island by a volcanic eruption are positively thrilling.

The life of little Gratia Latham, growing up on the depopulated island with only lions, apes and other wild animals as her companions, is intensely interesting, and it appears that the limit of spectacular sensationalism has been reached. Not so! Pearl White, the dashing and daring heroine of episode photoplays, is in the role of Gratia, who is transported to the Long Island home by a search party which comes to the island in a steamer after she has fallen heir to $10,000,000 by the death of her uncle. Miss White makes the struggles of Gratia in and against the customs and purposes of her new environment more terrific than anything that happened in the jungle where her nature was so largely formed.

The story of "A Virgin Paradise" was written by Hiram Percy Maxim, the world famous inventor of the Maxim silencer and many other contrivances.

COLUMBIA

As the name indicates, "Five Days to Live," Sessue Hayakawa's latest R-C production, at the Columbia Theatre to-day, is full of suspense. The big incidents of the story have to do with the five-day period Tai Leung, played by Sessue Hayakawa, has to live with his beautiful young bride. Tai has agreed to take the place of a condemned pirate and be executed in return for the use of the culprit's money and jewels in the five days he is to spend with his beloved. The element of suspense is so well sustained that not until the final hundred-odd feet of the last reel is the real kick of the story brought out. It is the rescue of Ko Ai from the poisonous incense to which she has almost succumbed.

ELSIE JANIS TO BE HERE WEDNESDAY

If Elsie Janis, who brings her famous gang in a new revue to the Royal Victoria Theatre to-morrow, did want to forget the war she would find it difficult. Her transcontinental tour of this year is more like the triumphal return of a general than that of a star filling theatrical engagements.

During the war, in her entertainment work at the front—and it is to be remembered that she was the only performer that had the distinction of having her tour planned at the general headquarters—she naturally met a great many officers of high rank. The proof of the fact that their thankfulness for what she did is not forgotten is shown by the presence of some of them at almost every one of her performances. The enlisted man is even more enthusiastic, and the favor and kindness shown her by world-war veterans in every city cause Miss Janis to say, "They are so good to me it just makes me feel that I did not do half enough for them in France." The flowers they send her, the applause with which they greet her every appearance, and the enthusiasm with which they receive the whole of her new revue would indicate that she did do her part, and did it well.

Military men, especially ex-service men, are particularly keen for a scene in the show which ends with the singing of a new "Blues" song called "Bonus Blues." This is the only portion of the revue that touches on war or soldier life, but one reviewer very aptly sized up the situation by saying: "The only phase of the Janis revue that is military is the audience—the great number of service and ex-service men that flock to pay tribute to their "little sweetheart."

REPORTS CONDITION OF PRAIRIE CROPS

Promise Is Above Average, Says Winnipeg Paper

Winnipeg, July 4.—The prairies are promised more than an average crop, the outlook being certainly brighter than at this time last year, states the third crop report of The Manitoba Free Press, published this morning. Naturally there has been some damage and deterioration from drought, pests and hail since the last report was issued on June 13, but the total damage does not appear large or serious, the report states.

The wheat crop in Manitoba has suffered less from any drawback and has easily held its early lead. Taking the province as a whole, wheat is 96 per cent. in shot blade and 50 per cent. in head. No damage is reported from drought, and moisture is sufficient for the time being except in three or four districts. Slight damage from grasshoppers is recorded from a few points. The hail damage has been the most extensive. The general remarks show that conditions in Manitoba are excellent.

Saskatchewan

Saskatchewan conditions are generally considered satisfactory, but the crops are a week or ten days behind Manitoba. Wheat is reported about 60 per cent. in shot blade, with very little actually in head. The majority of districts report sufficient moisture, but other districts report soil conditions as very dry or rain badly needed, and some damage has undoubtedly taken place from drought and hot winds. Fairly general showers last week improved matters. A number of districts report considerable damage from grasshoppers.

Alberta

Alberta crops have not made the favorable progress during the past three weeks that was expected. Crops from Swift Current to Calgary on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway are showing evidence of the recent dry hot weather, with prospects of an average crop if further rains are received during July. The recent rains have saved the situation in so far as many large areas are concerned.

HOLLYWOOD TO SEE "CARMEN" IN OPEN AIR

Hollywood, July 4.—Signatures are affixed to-day, with approval of the Chamber of Commerce, to contract and specifications making the Hollywood Bowl—the great open-air amphitheatre—definitely available for the gigantic outdoor production of the opera "Carmen," Saturday evening, July 8.

The contract was signed by F. W. Blanchard, on behalf of the Community Park and Art Association, owning the 55-acre tract forming the Bowl. Directors of the operatic production signed individually. They are Henry H. Hall, manager-general; Alexander Bevani, impresario and artistic director-general, and Walter E. Shostedt, well known Hollywood business man, business manager of the production.

Rehearsals Start.

The contract calls for permanent improvements in the Bowl costing $10,000, which sum will be spent on the installation of 30,000 seats, grading, leveling, and building of paths. In addition $30,000 will be devoted to the artistic presentation of the production.

Community Shares.

In addition, the Community Park and Art Association is to participate on a percentage basis in box office receipts above the $35,000 mark. It is estimated that $50,000 will be received at the gates.

Minister of Lands Inspects Work of Forest Branch

First Use of Aeroplane in Province For Annual Inspection Work.

By Henry C. Copeland, Editor Western Lumberman.

In order that he might acquire the most comprehensive understanding of the work of the Forest Branch, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Provincial Minister of Lands, arranged with Chief Forester Caverhill and District Forester Major Andrews for an extended trip up the coast to be made by aeroplane, ranger's launches and automobiles. Henry C. Copeland, editor of The Western Lumberman; Norman A. English, manager, and Clifford B. English, superintendent of the Nimpkish Timber Co., were invited to accompany the Minister.

The party left Jericho air station at 10.20 a. m., the morning of June 27th in the plane F-3, piloted by Major Maclaurin. The F-3 weighs 14,000 pounds and is driven by two Rolls-Royce twelve cylinder motors of 360 horse power each. With the full complement of crew there were nine people abroad.

Rising at a gentle slope going up the Straits of Georgia, the plane was soon crossing Howe Sound, passing over Bowen Island, Gibson's Landing was soon below, then Secheldt. Below us were three tugs, with booms of logs, that had turned tail and were heading for shelter at Trail Islands. Another tug had been unable to hold her tow and the boom had gone ashore.

Still climbing a bit we passed up towards Stillwater and Eagle River and then turned inland to Horseshoe Lake. Below was the operation of Brooks, Scanlon and O'Brien. The details of the operation were as clearly seen as if laid out on a large map. There was the main line railroad with the side lines to the different settings. About each setting was a star shaped design showing where the logs had been skidded in. A fire had started here and swept through to Powell Lake—this fire traveled the ten miles to Powell Lake in three hours, it was still burning at the edge of Powell River as we passed.

Turning west at Powell Lake we saw the operation of Blodel-Stewart & Welch Corporation at Haslam Lake, there was no fire there at that time. Swinging to a northwestrly course we passed over Lund. A number of tows of logs were below. Looking across to Vancouver Island Comox fire was in good view. Sweeping up Desolation Sound and Aggemenon Channel, Savary Island laid off to the left, suggesting a South Sea Island of a Stevenson story.

Past the Hole in the Wall, well named for it is just that, and a place where the tides sweep through with resistless force, we could see a large gathering of logs that were being scaled by a Forest Branch scaler. Crossing Okissollo we came to Sonora Island. Here we were flying at about 5,000 feet and Major Maclaurin now shut off the motors and we glided down into Thurston Bay, having done about 160 miles in an hour and fifty minutes.

After lunching here an inspection was made of the boat building and repair plant of the Forest Branch located at this point. Then taking off again we followed Johnston Straits, getting a view of the valley south of Rock Bay, where the B. C. Mills, Timber & Trading Company are operating. Passing over Knox Bay the blackened smouldering operation of P. B. Andersen could be seen.

On East Coast of Island.

From the height now attained we could see up Loughboro Inlet and over Hardwicke Island, getting a view to north of Topaz Harbor and to the south of the wonderful Salmon River Valley, where four or five small fires were noticed.

Proceeding north we passed over Cracroft Island, Knight Inlet, Gillford Island, Tribune Channel and up Kingcome Inlet to get a view of the agricultural possibilities of this inlet. The clouds settling down heavily near the head of the inlet we turned back, and swinging to the southwest we crossed over Alert Bay and on up to Nimpkish Lake, where a landing was made.

A special train was in waiting and we were taken to Nimpkish, where the party was entertained by Messrs. Norman and Clifford English in the new owner's bungalow. 325 miles had been covered during the day and in less than four hours' flying.

Returning to Nimpkish Lake in the morning of the 28th an inspection of camp four of the Nimpkish Timber Company was made. Taking off at 11.10 we were at Thurston Bay, about 65 miles, in fifty-two minutes.

Following luncheon, the F-3 started on the return to Vancouver and the Minister, Chief Forester, District Forester and Mr. Copeland went aboard the Forest Branch boat, the R. J. Skinner. Running up the Greenpoint Rapids, Grassy Bay, in Loughboro Inlet, was arrived at about 5.30 p. m. A westerly wind sent us across to Beaver Creek, where we tied up for the night. Hardly were the ropes fast when a boat from Grassy Bay came in with the word that a fire had started at P. B. Andersen's operation there and asking for help.

The Grassy Bay boat was sent one way and Ranger O'Grady another, while the Skinner was started for the Wellbore station for Ranger Price, but Price has been called to a fire at another camp. That he got under control at midnight, and then started for Grassy Bay. Going up to the fire on the speeder, it ran off the track, and Ranger O'Grady's leg was broken just above the ankle. All his equipment being at work on the fire Price takes O'Grady and his boat for Rock Bay and the hospital. Thursday afternoon as we were nearing Thurston Bay we spoke Price on his way back to the Grassy Bay fire. And that was only one day or two in a ranger's life.

Leaving Wellbore the morning of the 28th we went over to Read Bay on Topaz Harbor, where an inspection of the Wilson and Brady operation was made, then back to Grassy Bay to see what the conditions were there. Leaving there a run was made for Thurston Bay, where the night was spent.

On Way Home.

From Thurston Bay the run was made direct to Campbell River. A short trip to the falls and the lake, then Ranger MacDonald met the party with his Ford, and the drive of a hundred miles was made to Nanaimo. The following morning the Minister and the Chief Forester left with Ranger MacDonald for Cowichan Lake, returning from there to Victoria, District Forester Andrews and Mr. Copeland returning to Vancouver by the morning boat.

On this trip of five days nearly 700 miles were traveled by the Minister and his party. Four large operations were inspected in detail. Many other were observed from a distance. A number of field reports were received. Areas of reforestation were observed. Agricultural possibilities were considered. The activities and the practical work of the rangers was closely observed as well as the manner in which their work is tied into that of the logging operators.

Minister Pattullo expressed himself as well pleased with the efficiency of the Forest Branch work, and also received himself an amount of first hand knowledge that will be of great administrative value.

COMPENSATION IS PAID IN BOMBAY

Bombay, July 4.—Claims for compensation for the sufferers in the riots of last November during the visit of the Prince of Wales have been adjudicated. They total about six and a half lakhs (roughly $211,000), the bulk of which goes to the widow of Wm. Francis Doherty, the United States engineer who was killed during the disturbances.

Early Fall release of Douglas Fairbanks's production of "Robin Hood" is now assured. The picture will be completed the end of July, according to present indications, and the cutting, titling and editing will be done in August. Early in September, it is expected, the feature will be ready for shipment.

Mr. Fairbanks has been on location on the Verdugo Woodland estate, making some of the outdoor love scenes of the story. He is arranging shortly to go on a more distant location for the Sherwood forest scenes.

There remains to be shot some of the most difficult episodes in the picture, like the battle between the forces of Richard Coeur de Lion and Robin Hood's band, and those of Prince John and Guy of Gisbourne, which form the climax of the picture. Also the final shots in the tournament where Guy of Gisbourne is unhorsed by the Earl of Huntingdon (Robin Hood) are yet to be photographed. Most of the tournament scenes were shot early in the filming, but it was decided not to take the risky part of the combat until the completion of the picture, because of the danger of an accident.

TWO STAR BRITISH GOLFERS NOT COMING

Chicago, July 4.—J. H. Taylor, five times British open golf champ, and Sandy Herd, another veteran professional, will not compete in the national open championship at Skokie Club, July 10 to 15, as planned, but Geo. Duncan and Abe Mitchell expect to reach Chicago Thursday to enter the contest.

Adventures of Pathfinding Car From Edmonton Told at Kamloops

The pathfinder party—Edmonton to Victoria—now en route here, reported some varied experiences when it reached Kamloops in the first car to come through via Jasper Park on its own power.

The Overland pathfinder was piloted by C. W. Niemeyer, who was accompanied by F. J. Silverthorne and two well known mountain guides, "Baldy" Robb, of Edson, Alta., and Chas. Nelson, of Lucerne, B.C. This car is a stock model and bears the inscription, "Pathfinding Car—Edmonton-Victoria, via Jasper and Kamloops."

Tough Route

The Overland pathfinder left Edmonton on the morning of June 17, arriving at Edson at midnight on the 19th, after two days of very tough going, much of the way through a muskeg country, necessitating the building of many stretches of corduroy. After a day's rest the motorists left Edson at 6.20 Tuesday evening, June 20, reaching Jasper Park on Friday, June 23. In this stretch they used as far as possible the abandoned grade of the G.T.P. They left Jasper at 9.30 Sunday morning over the C.N.R., driving the car over the ties, arriving at Lucerne at 2.30 the same day, the first car to cross the Rocky Mountains. Laid up there for repairs for a time, the Overland party got away Monday morning, using the steel for the first mile, then transferring to the abandoned grade. They found the going bad, chiefly on account of slides, and in one place a 300-foot bridge being out, a bad detour was compulsory. Red Pass Junction was reached at 4.30 and Tete Jaun at 11.30 p.m., most of the way over steel.

Further Adventures

From that point to Swift Creek the going was found good over the old tote road, the distance of fifteen miles being made in less than two hours. Albreda was reached at 2.10 over very bad roads. The steel was again resorted to, the party traveling all night and reaching Blue River at five Wednesday morning. Wolfenden was made by 7.40. There they were held up by the train service, but got to Avola, arriving shortly after 3. Leaving Avola at 7.30 on the last stretch to Kamloops, they were held up at the Clearwater ferry, but got away after a time and made Kamloops next morning.

Mr. Niemeyer has made careful notes of condition all along the route and has taken hundreds of photographs.

A Mile an Hour

"It was very hard going in some places," said Mr. Niemeyer. "We had to blaze a trail practically to Albreda, and one day it took us eleven and three-quarter hours to travel eleven miles. Often we had to build a road round a rock which was too large to roll away."

Following the Pathfinder car was a Ford runabout, containing G. D. Gordon and J. E. Sims, who reached Kamloops the same day, following the Niemeyer party.

VON ELM IS BEATEN IN SPECIAL MATCH

Wichita, Kansas, July 4.—David Spitall, local professional, and T. B. Griffith, Wichita amateur champion, won a two-ball foursome here yesterday from George Von Elm, of Salt Lake, runner-up in the recent Western amateur tournament at Kansas City and Alex Graham, Kansas amateur champion, 2 up. Each of the golfers negotiated the 18 holes in less than par, which is 74. Von Elm turned in 72 for the course.

Serve Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, to aged sufferers from constipation—and results will prove astounding! Here is nature's most wonderful food—not only sweeping, cleansing and purifying the bowel tract without any irritation or discomfort but stimulating and energizing brain and nerve cells!

Give the aged Kellogg's Bran with every meal. Serve it as a cereal, sprinkle it on other hot or cold cereals or make it up into the most delicious muffins, raisin bread, gems, macaroons, pancakes, etc., you ever tasted. And, all the time it is doing wonderful health work. The value of Kellogg's Bran cannot be overestimated!

Bran is a vitally necessary food on every family table. Its regular use—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal—will not only free you from the dangers of constipation, but it will ward off disease! Authorities tell you that 90% of all illness is caused by constipation! Remember that!

Don't wait for constipation to "get" you or some loved one! Start with Kellogg's Bran tomorrow. Serve it every day as a cereal, sprinkled over other cereals or in countless bakery batches. Bran will add years to anyone's life!

Children grow strong and robust when given Kellogg's Bran in their diet. It keeps the little ones in prime health, allowing the organs to perform normal functions and the body to grow in a healthy way. Bran will sweeten an offensive breath and clear a pimply complexion. Buy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, at all grocers. In the "WAXTITE" package

YANKEES BIG BATS BEGIN TO BATTER

Ruth Hit Homer Yesterday While Meusel Got Everything on Slate

St. Louis Being Pressed for Lead; Tigers and White Sox in Hard Race

New York, July 4.—The big bats of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel combined with a brace by the pitching staff have put the New York Yankees back in the thick of the American league race, close on the heels of the flying St. Louis Browns. Only two games separated the rivals to-day.

Babe hit his 13th homer yesterday, while the rest of murderers row were helping to crush the Athletics for the fifth straight time 12 to 1.

Bob Meusel was the real swatting hero with the unusual record of a single, double, triple and homer in five times at bat.

Giants Go Ahead of Game.

The Giants gained a notch on each of their principal rivals, knocking Burleigh Grimes out of the box and winning from Brooklyn 9 to 1, while Cincinnati beat St. Louis six to three.

Chicago and Detroit, who are running neck and neck for third place in the American league, divided a hard fought double header, Detroit taking the first seven to six in fourteen innings after tieing the score in the ninth, while Chicago took the second in a thrilling finish. Harry Heilman made his 13th homer in the first game.

Chief Moses Yellowhorse tomahawked the Chicago Cubs five to two with the aid of sensational support by his Pirate team mates.

FAST BALL GAME IS SET FOR TO-MORROW

Elks Are Playing Snoqualmie Falls Nine in Exhibition Game at Stadium

The Elks ball players are taking no chances in their game to-morrow evening against Snoqualimie Falls, and will field the strongest nine they are able to get out. From all accounts the visitors have a very fast nine, and at the present time have the same standing in their league as the Elks have in the city league, both having won seven games and lost one.

The Falls players defeated the Redmond team on Sunday by the score of seven to one and yesterday turned in another win over Port Angeles, they are mixing with the Angeles players to-day in the big holiday attraction and will arrive in this city to-morrow morning.

Bringing Star Hurler.

Joe Hastings, who is expected to do the pitching for the visitors, is well known both in Victoria and Vancouver as in 1918 he pitched for Coughlan's team in the Terminal City and hurled his team to fourteen consecutive victories.

While the Elks have not announced who will do the heaving, it looks as if Manager Lorimer will send in Norm Forbes. He was in uniform last evening but did not play against the K. of C., merely doing a little warming up. With Forbes in shape along with Woodhouse after his fine showing last evening against the K. of C., McIntyre and Givens the Elks are well off for pitchers.

The game will start at 6.30 o'clock and Allie McGregor will do the umpiring.

SONS OF CANADA TO MEET THE TOMMIES

Lacrosse Game Is Schedule for To-morrow Evening at Royal Athletic Park

Bob McInnes' fast-traveling Sons of Canada are due to mix things with the Garrison in the Victoria and District Lacrosse League at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock.

The Garrison have yet to win a game in the race, but in each appearance they have shown marked improvement. The players are all in prime physical shape but they are not very effective in the play around the net.

The Sons of Canada have played twice. In their initial appearance they suffered defeat at the hands of Sidney, while in their second game they vanquished the V. I. A. A.

The Sons will line up as follows to-morrow: Goal, Humber; point, McNamee; cover point, Straith; first defence, Moses; second defence, Collinson; third defence, Brown; centre, Cowan; third home, Sturgess; second home, Hetherbell; first home, Goodacre; outside home, Humber; inside home, Allen, Cameron, Catterall and Jones.

The schedule in this league for July will be as follows:

July 5—Sons of Canada vs. Garrison.

July 12—Sidney vs. Sons of Canada.

July 19—V. I. A. A. vs. Sidney.

July 19—Garrison vs. Sons of Canada.

July 26—Sons of Canada vs. V. I. A. A.

July 26—Garrison vs. Sidney.

Esquimalt School Boys Who Won Gyro Cup For First Time In League Which Is Reviving Game of Lacrosse

Leonard Tait, principal of the Lampson Street School, brought his team of huskies through the Victoria and District School Lacrosse League and captured the Gyro Cup and medals. Not content with that the team engaged in a series of games with the Sidney juniors and on Dominion Day won the third and deciding match. The Esquimalt boys competed against older and larger players at Sidney but nevertheless they showed their superiority, winning by 5-2. The Esquimalt team is one of the finest school twelves that has been organized in this city.

The players in the picture above are as follows: Back row, from left to right—Walter White, spare; William Plater, inside home; Walter Bayliss, second home; Alex Wallace, centre; William Doidge, third defence; Wilfred Jenkins, second defence; Claude Hamer, spare; Harold Watson, cover-point, and Kenneth Thompson, spare.

MANN CUP-HOLDERS PRACTISE TO-NIGHT

The Victoria Lacrosse Club has called a practice for this evening at 7 o'clock at the Stadium. The Sons of Canada are turning out to practice with the Mann Cup holders and a stiff workout is expected. The members of both teams are asked to be on hand.

HANDICAP FINALS POSTPONED FOR WEEK

Island Championship Tournament at Duncan Offset Arrangements for Saturday

Nothing of a spectacular or exciting character took place yesterday in the tennis handicap tournament at the Willows courts, except the unexpected defeat of Miss Lawson by Miss M. Campbell, the new under 18 champion.

McCallum and Gordon went another step toward the finals of the men's doubles.

Play in the tournament has been going through rapidly and there is no doubt that the finals would have been held on this Saturday, but at a meeting last night it was decided to hold the finals over until a week Saturday so as not to conflict with the tournament at Duncan on that date. This Saturday would have been chosen but the Vancouver Island championships at Duncan are taking place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A number of those still in the running for the finals are due to play in this tournament.

It is the intention of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club to hold a gala day on Saturday, July 15, when the finals in the handicaps are to be played.

Yesterday's results follow:

Mrs. Syson and Quayle (—½ 15) defeated Mrs. Rickay and Brown (— 30), 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Leeming and Miss Hudson (—15.4) defeated Mrs. Mogg and Mrs. Beckton (—½ of 15), 6-3, 8-6.

Mrs. Musgrave and Miss Craft (X15.3) defeated Mrs. Garrett and Miss Robertson (—½ 15), 6-1, 6-2.

Miss M. Campbell (s) defeated Miss Lawson (—40), 6-0, 6-2.

Mrs. Knox (—15) defeated Miss Jackson (—15), 6-3, 6-8, 8-6.

Miss M. Leeming (—40) defeated Miss Wright (—15), 6-2, 6-1.

McCulium and Gordon (—40) defeated Edwards and Robertson (—30.3), 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Lawson and Beatty (—40) defeated Miss Hardie and Foulkes (s), 6-3, 8-6.

To-day's Games.

At 4.15 P. M.

Mrs. Gillespie and Miss Ayrton play Miss Leeming and Miss Hudson.

At 5.15 P. M.

Miss Ayrton and Berrill play Mrs. Leeming and Gordon.

Cameron and Gray play Colpman and Lawrence.

Littler plays Wyles.

At 6.15 P. M.

Miss H. Leeming and Cunningham play Miss Hutchinson and Stanier.

Gordon plays Collison.

Proctor plays Martin.

Miss Leeming and Leeming play Mrs. H. Mogg and Mogg.

At 7.15 P. M.

Quayle plays Cunningham.

Henley Regatta To Be Brilliant Event

English Crews Will Have Plenty of Competition from Outsiders This Year—Regatta Opens To-morrow and Promises to Equal Pre-war Rowing Gatherings

London, Eng., July 4.—(Associated Press).—All this week beautiful Henley-on-Thames will be the lodestone for those whose fancy turns to the greatest of aquatic sport, amateur rowing. Competitors from many countries will be on hand to match their speed and endurance and to the successful athletes will go the highest honors that can be won by amateur oarsmen.

Henley Royal Regatta for well on to a century has gathered together the best amateur oarsmen of the world. It was founded in 1839 when at a public meeting it was decided to raise a subscription and purchase two challenge cups, the Grand Challenge Cup to be rowed for annually in eight-oared boats, open to all amateur crews, and the Town Challenge Cup, for four-oared crews residing within five miles of Henley. Two years later the Stewards Challenge Cup for four-oars, open to competition under the same conditions as the Grand Challenge Cup, was added to the programme. Additions were made periodically, and there are now eight events which make up the four days' regatta.

One-half the events—the Grand Challenge Cup, the Stewards Challenge Cup, the Silver Goblet for pair oars, founded in 1845, and the Diamond Sculls, for single scullers, founded in 1844, are open to all amateurs, as defined by the Amateur Rowing Association. Two of the remaining events the Ladies' Challenge Plate, (eight oars), and the Visitors' Challenge Plate, (four oars) are open to crews from schools and colleges in the United Kingdom. Restrictions are also attached to the Thames Challenge Cup (eight oars) and to the Wyford Challenge Cup (four oars) which complete the programme.

Swiss Coming In.

Entries for this year's regatta, which opens on Wednesday, July 5, compare very favorably with those of the last pre-war regatta—1914. For the Grand Challenge Cup entries have been received from four foreign countries, Norway, Switzerland, Belgium and France. The reappearance of the Ghent Club of Belgium is particularly welcome, as this club in its seven quests for the Grand Challenge between the years 1900 and 1911 was successful three times, 1906, 1907 and 1909.

The Christiana Club, of Norway, won the Thames Cup last year, and the experience gained by that young but powerful crew a year ago should prove invaluable when they meet the much stronger English crews in the major event this year. This year will mark the second time that France has sent in an entry, the former occasion being in 1892, while Switzerland will make its debut at Henley. The Grasshoppers' Club, as the Swiss Club is named, has a very strong crew. At the Olympic regatta in 1920 they put up an excellent fight against the powerful Leander club representing England. The Grasshoppers have also been entered in the Stewards Cup.

Winner Not Entered.

Keen competition is expected for the Diamond Sculls. Baynes, amateur champion of Queensland, has undergone a strict training course at Marlow under George Towns, ex-champion of the world, in preparation for the event. M. Schmid, of Switzerland, has entered for the Diamond Sculls, as has also Walter Hoover, of the Duluth Boat Club, who, some three weeks ago won the Gold Cup Race at Philadelphia in record time. The Canadian entrant for the Diamond Sculls, Hilton Belyea, of St. John, New Brunswick, withdrew his Henley entry immediately following his defeat by Hoover at Philadelphia. F. E. Eyken, of Delft University, Holland, the winner of the Sculls last year, has not entered for this race this week.

Oxford Made Record Time.

The course over which the regatta is rowed is one-mile and 550 yards in length, and about 110 feet in width. The races are rowed against the stream and the time usually occupied by the winning crew of the Grand Challenge Cup is within a few second of seven minutes. The fastest time in recent years was that of last year when the crew from Magdalen College, Oxford, rowed the course in 6 min. 54 seconds. Durin gthe war years, of course, rowing was out of the question, but at the first regatta following the war Magdalen was victorious in the Grand Challenge, winning again last year.

As might be expected in any event with such an extended lifetime, many unique incidents have featured the Henley regatta. In 1843 the famous "seven oar" episode took place. At the last hour one of the members of the Oxford crew was incapacitated through illness and the opposing crew refused permission to the Oxford crew to put on a substitute. Nothing daunted, the Oxford crew took to the water with one man absent and won undying fame by winning the Grand Challenge cup with seven oars.

Ten years later Oxford defeated Cambridge in the Grand Challenge by only eighteen inches. In 1907, New College, Oxford, set up a record for the course for the Grand Challenge when they won from the Leander Club by two feet, in six minutes and 51 seconds. From 1897 and onward the competition from foreign crews has been a feature of the regatta. In 1906 the Club Nautique de Grand, Belgium, carried off the Grand Challenge, and the Belgium club repeated in 1907 and 1909. In 1912, the Sydney Rowing Club, New South Wales, was the winner, and in 1914, the last regatta before the war, an eight from Harvard University carried off the rowing tid-bit.

Canadian Won Singles.

The Diamond Sculls left England for the first time in 1898 when J. J. Ooms, a Hollander, won the finals. In 1904 L. F. Scholes, of Toronto, Canada, won the Diamond Sculls, defeating F. S. Kelly, of the Leander Boat Club. Scholes' time created a new record for the event, but in the following year Kelly, in winning the Sculls lowered the record to 8 mins. and 10 seconds, which stands to this day. Kelly, though winning the Sculls on two successive years, and then winning in the year following his defeat stands out very prominently in the records of the Diamond Sculls.

The winners of the Grand Challenge Cup, and the Diamond Sculls since 1900, with time, follows:

WOBBLY KNIGHTS TRIMMED BY ELKS

Tail-enders Tried to Give Leaders Battle, But Their Fielding Was Bad

Woodhouse Turned Back Knights With Five Lonely Bingles; Struck Out 10

The Elks, leaders of the amateur baseball league, continued their winning streak by handing the Knights of Columbus another trimming at the Stadium last night by 6 to 2.

Manager Lorimer selected Len Woodhouse to dish up the twisters for the Elks crew and Len performed in great style. Inclined to be wild at various stages of the battle, he heaved wonderful ball with men on bases and for the biggest part of the evening, had the Knights looking like a bunch of gate-swingers. No less than ten batters were retired via the strike-out route, while but five were successful in connecting safely with the elusive pill.

The Knights had men on bases in every inning excepting the fourth, but it was not until the ninth, when a couple of bobbles by the Elks infield, gave them their only runs of the game.

Lacked the Support.

Tommy Moffat, pitching for Macfarlane's crew, heaved good enough ball to win most games, but poor support in the pinches, and lack of hitting on the Knight's part, caused another defeat to be chalked up against him. It was tough luck for Moffat as he is one of the best pitchers in the amateur league, and he deserves better support than he has received in his last two games.

The Elks shoved their first run across in the third inning, added another in the fourth, one more in the fifth, two more in the sixth and their final run in the seventh. Six runs and exactly one of them earned. The Knights two runs were also gifts, Moore and McGinnis both scoring on errors when the Elks defence went to pieces for a few minutes.

The Big Noises.

Roy Copas and George Allan led the hitters, both gathering a pair of singles during the evening. Allan also had a great fight in the field pulling down four healthy wallops and making a sensational catch of Roy Copas' long fly in the seventh.

McGinnis proved that his recent injury has not affected his throwing arm to any extent, by turning back three would-be stealers at second.

The next amateur league game will be played next Saturday afternoon, when the Eagles will meet the C. P. R., the game being called for 3 o'clock. The box score follows:

AUTO DRIVERS ARE RACING AT TACOMA

Eleventh Annual Speed Race on To-day; Eleven Riders Are Entered

Tacoma, July 4.—The speedway here to-day is the mecca of automobile race fans of the Pacific Northwest who have gathered in large numbers to see the eleventh annual automobile race classic. Prospects this morning were that 40,000 persons will see the contest, in which eleven of the leading race drivers of the land are entered. The race this year is 250 miles in length and the winners will divide $25,000 in prize money.

The two-mile board saucer is in excellent condition for the speed stars.

MAKES RECORD TIME.

The winner of the bicycle race to Sidney on July 1 was Charlie Staples, who made the distance in the record time of 51 minutes. This is the fastest time that it has ever been covered. Although Fletcher came in first he toook altogether 58 minutes to cover the distance. Last year Staples covered the distance in 52 minutes. Fletcher, who came in first, was given 20 minutes' handicap, and Peden, who came in second, was given 10 minutes, but even with this extra time they were not able to beat Staples in time.

CALGARY PLAYER WINS ALBERTA GOLF TITLE AT TWENTIETH HOLE

Edmonton, July 4.—Starting in bad weather and playing throughout the day under frequent showers, T. R. Hutchison, of Calgary, yesterday won the Alberta amateur golf championship, beating T. C. Morrison, also of Calgary, at the twentieth hole.

KANSAS EXPECTS TO WIN BENNY'S TITLE

Lightweights Figure in Championship Bout To-day; Big Crowd to See Bout

Michigan City, Ind., July 4.—Benny Leonard, world lightweight chmapion, will defend his title to-day for the third time against Rocky Kansas, the Buffalo, New York, challenger. The contest is scheduled for ten rounds, with no decision if both men are on their feet at the end. The boxers will go in at catch weights, with Leonard probably scaling 137 pounds, but with Kansas safely inside the lightweight limit, so that if he should put Leonard down for the ten seconds count the championship will change hands.

The contest will be in a huge arena built of concrete in a vast hole scooped out of Lake Michigan Beach. Indications to-day pointed to an attendance of 25,000 to 35,000 with gate receipts expected to reach $75,000 and possibly $100,000 should the concrete bowl be filled to capacity.

Rocky Thinks He'll Win.

Kansas was supremely confident to-day he would win, with Leonard equally as positive the challenger would not be on his feet at the final bell.

Davey Miller, of Chicago, will referee. He was selected late last night after hours of wrangling between Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter, and Leonard's manager, Billy Gibson.

Leonard and Kansas are expected to enter the ring at about 4.30 p. m. central standard time.

JIM BUCKETT WILL RUN IN VANCOUVER

Entered in Ten-mile Race at Vancouver Police Sports To-morrow

Following the success of the Crusaders at the Sidney sports on Dominion Day, the athletic committee are planning to compete in all track meets in the future. George Allan, J. C. Dowds, Lawrence Everett and W. Holman represented the Crusaders at the Sidney sports and returned to Victoria with ten prizes, it was reported at last night's meeting of the organization.

Jimmy Buckett did not attend owing to the long distance race he is entering in Vancouver to-morrow. Jimmy intends to capture the ten-mile jaunt at the Vancouver Police sports. The course is laid through Stanley Park and some lively competition is expected. Ernie Cull, who was to accompany him, is unable to make the trip but is leaving it to Jimmy with all the confidence in his mind that he will win the race despite the warm weather. Jimmy finished his course of training yesterday and accompanied by his trainer, A. Cox, left on the night boat to look over the course and to get acquainted with the Vancouver climate before he starts.

The race is to take place at 1.15 and the course will take about an hour to cover. The Crusaders are preparing to enter a number of their athletes in the J. B. A. A. races, which are to take place on Saturday, and for this purpose have called a meeting in their club rooms on Thursday at 8 o'clock to discuss the entries. The police sports will also see competition from this class of boys.

BASEBALL TO-NIGHT.

A game of baseball will be played this evening at Work Point Barracks between the Eagles and the Garrison, commencing at 6:30 o'clock.

TWO JACKS BILLIARDS.

Two games were played last night in the Two Jacks billiard handicap. Jones (r 25) beat Miller (r 40) by 36 points, and Preston (r 100) beat Houston (r 125) after a very exciting game by six points.

FIVE C'S CRICKET

A general meeting of the Five C's Cricket Club will be held to-morrow night in the Christ Church School rooms, corner Quadra Street and Burdett Avenue. Members of the B team are requested to be present at 8 o'clock sharp. The general meeting starts at 8.30 o'clock. This is an important meeting and all players are asked to attend.

SILBURN BOYS LEAD IN JUNE HANDICAPS

George Silburn won first place in the "A" class of the June handicaps at the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club while his brother Ernie romped off with leading position in the "B" class. Tom Wellburn was the winner of the 50-yards open.

The V. A. S. C. has been staging handicap events every Wednesday evening at its pool at the Gorge. Owing to the various grades of swimmers competing it was decided to divide the handicaps into two sections.

In the "A" class George Silburn gained 12 points during June, while W. T. Barrett was second with 7 and Gracie and Tom Wellburn tied for third place with 6. The events in which they competed were the 100 yards, two 50-yard events and the breast stroke.

General Meeting

A general meeting of the V. A. S. C. will be held to-morrow evening at 8.15 o'clock at the clubhouse. Business of importance is to be transacted and all members are requested to attend.

BRENNAN AND MARTIN ARE MEETING TO-DAY

Heavyweights Are Both Confident of Victory in West Virginia Ring

Huntington, W. Va., July 4.—Bill Brennan yesterday ended his training for his bout to-day with Bob Martin at Cliffeside Park, near here. Martin did not work out.

The vanguard of fans from all parts of the country to witness the scheduled 12-round bout arrived last night.

The bout will be called at 3.45 o'clock.

Pearl Rariden, of Huntington, will referee. Brennan, it is stated, is to receive $15,000 and Martin $8,000. It is estimated by promoter J. Stender that the attendance will exceed 10,000. Both pugilists to-day were confident.

Wilson Boxes To-day.

Rutland, Vermont, July 4.—Johnny Wilson, of Boston, middleweight champion, and A. L. Demaris, of Indianapolis, will box an eight-round no-decision bout here this afternoon. This will be Wilson's first start in several months.

HOT WEATHER IS SERIOUS MENACE

To Production of Butter on Prairies; Prices Advance

The continued hot weather is seriously jeopardizing the production of butter on the prairies, while its effect among dairymen of this Province is also being felt. Prices denoted an advance as the result of this menace to the butter production. Two cents was the advance indicated, while choice creamery also advanced a cent. None of the local stock advanced, as only the prairie market is feeling the effect of the warm weather, which has been described as an Indian Summer. Cheese advanced on the retail market to-day, two cents being the incline registered on Stiltons. Some interesting developments are being looked for in the dairy and cheese market during this week.

Among the vegetable and fruit section of the market the arrival of broad beans was probably the most interesting feature of the trading. This period is exceptionally early for broad beans to be on the market, but they were quoted on the list to-day. Tomatoes are continuing on their downward trend, again indicating a drop in their figure, now demanding 25 and 30 cents a pound. Beets are arriving on the market in bountiful quantities now, and are quoting a favorable price of 5 cents a bunch. The quotations on the retail market have been revised as follows:

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, July 4.—There was a good undertone to the local wheat market to-day, and prices were all generally higher than yesterday. Trade with American markets closed for the holiday and with no news coming in, was extremely dull, however.

July advanced to a high of 122⅝, October to 123⅞, and December 119½, closing fractionally lower, but at an advance of 1⅞ for July over yesterday. October was ⅝ higher and December ⅛c up.

No. 1 Northern cash wheat premium was 9½ over July and No. 2 Northern 4½ over.

Inspections totalled 501 cars, of which 148 were wheat.

PUBLIC LOSES MILLIONS IN ALLEN THEATRE CRASH

Canadian Movie Magnates Rise to Fame Was Quick and Profitable

But in Their Fall They Have Left $1,500,000 Liabilities

Toronto, July 4.—"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven . . . a time to plant and a time to pluck up that which is planted . . . a time to break down and a time to build up . . . a time to cast away stones and a time to gather stones together."

To failure to recognize the signs of the times is attributed the fact that the parent company of the Allen Theatres, which three years ago was making profits of half a million a year, is to-day in the hands of its creditors.

In 1920 the company, which had entered on the moving picture enterprise when it was in its infancy sixteen years ago, had made in twelve months $500,000. Jule and Jay J. Allen, the young masters of the finance, who had guided it from its humble beginnings to a position of enviable affluence, were filled with optimistic ambition. What they had already done they felt they could duplicate, triplicate, and multiply any number of times.

Suffered Losses.

Against advice they plunged into extensions in London, Eng., Cleveland and Detroit. Their undertakings meant assuming large obligations. These they assumed, confident in success. A statement sent to the press in 1920 stated that the price paid by them for the Leicester Square property in London alone was $2,000,000. Stock in the enterprises was placed upon the market. Of the parent company's stock, $1,250,000 was subscribed by the public. Of the subsidiary companies' stocks, $2,100,000 was subscribed by the public.

But the time when the parent company embarked on its extension was not a time for extending, but a time for marking time. Business depression and an unforeseeable period of bad theatre weather resulted in serious losses. Last year the company lost upwards of $100,000. Its liabilities total upwards of $1,500,000.

Creditors Meet.

Creditors of the parent company met in the offices of Clarkson & Co., to determine what is the best step to be taken to pull the undertaking out of the mire of financial difficulties.

There are to-day some forty Allen Theatres. These are located in Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, London, Stratford, Kitchener, St. Catharines, Cobalt, Brantford, Paris, Winnipeg, Calgary, Regina, Moose Jaw, Windsor, Cobourg, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Vancouver, Brandon, Montreal and Cleveland. Of these, thirty are owned by subsidiary companies and the balance by the parent company.

Theatre Business Better.

The prospect is that nearly all of the subsidiary companies will be able to continue in business and get along. The theatre business is much better this year than last. The subsidiaries are not necessarily dragged down by the fate of the parent company.

Negotiations have been under way for some time for the sale of the parent business. There have been various offers to purchase. If these are not acceptable, the company may be put into bankruptcy, in which case the assets would be sold. In such event it is questionable whether the holders of $1,250,000 preferred stock in the parent company would realize anything. If there is an extension granted, new capital must be sought which will look to future profits sufficient to repay the $1,500,000 liabilities.

How It Began.

The rise of the Allen Theatres has been a phenomenal one. Bernard Allen, jeweler, of Bradford, Penn., in September, 1906, talked over with his sons, Jule, aged eighteen, and Jay J., aged seventeen, what their future should be. Jay had just returned from Hamilton, then a city of 80,000, and it had struck him that there was not a "cinematograph" or moving picture show in the whole town. He suggested that they should start one. Jule was sent off to secure a location. He could not find a store that would be vacant in less than thirty days, so he went on to Brantford. In the latter city, on November 10, 1906, the Allen Theatres gave their first show. It was in a renovated store and passed under the imposing name of the "Theatorium." A hundred and fifty kitchen chairs were crowded before the white sheet which had been tacked across one end of the store. A projecting machine had been brought over from the States.

Real "Nickel Show."

An admission of five cents was charged. The films were few in number and short in length. "The Watermelon Patch," indicating that the way of the transgressor is hard, and a train-wreck were the features. Each show lasted about fifteen minutes, and the shows went on continuously. The investment of three or four hundred dollars was soon returned.

The success of the enterprise determined the Allens to widen out their undertaking. Another store was rented, and $2,000 was spent on it. A phonograph was installed over the ticket window. The show opened before the chairs had been put into place and half the people had to stand, but this outfit was soon earning from $20 to $35 a day. Later still, another theatre was opened in Brantford.

Had First Big One.

Time came when they longed for other fields, and, selling out the Brantford business, they moved to Calgary, and here, in 1913, opened the first modern picture house in Canada. From there the headquarters of the company came to Toronto where it still is, while the theatres operated under their management reach from Montreal to the Pacific. Millions of patrons fill them every year. Six film exchanges operated by the Allens supply their theatres.

The rapid expansion of the company is illustrated by the fact that in November, 1917, when the first Allen Theatre in Toronto was opened, there were only eight Allen Theatres in operation, where to-day there are forty. It is to be noted that the period of expansion was the period coincident with the high cost of building. Nevertheless, it is stated that the building costs of the Allen Theatres was always reasonable.

Read both halves of the news

LOOKING over all the normal activities of life which hold your interest — your city, your church, your school, your sport, your good works, there is not a single one that has not been promoted and fostered by having public attention focussed upon it in the Daily Newspapers of your community.

Facts about personal happenings of this kind have come to be called news; facts about retail business are spoken of as "advertising." There is no actual difference between the two. Read both.

As a consumer you have as much interest in the day's advertising news as any person has in civic, religious and recreational events. How else can you keep informed of what is newest and best to eat, to wear and to use; how can you know who is selling on the best terms and pledging his name and resources to back the quality and worth of his brand and trademark?

Daily Newspaper advertising is the soil in which new comforts and economies are grown daily for your benefit. It is news of value and interest to every one of us who must spend money daily just to live.

Weller's vs. Spencer's, at Beacon Hill.

St. Aidan's vs. Garrison at Work Point.

St. Aidan's now hold the lead in the Wednesday Cricket League by virtue of their victory two weeks ago over Broad Street. Just how long they will hold it is a question, although there are many who think they will stay on top until the race is ended. However, they are running up against a stiff proposition in the Garrison to-morrow and will need Parks' effective bat and bowling arm to bring them through to victory. The Garrison has been showing much improved form of late and is going out with the sole purpose of humbling the leaders.

Broad Street, which is within a game of St. Aidan's, should win its match to-morrow and Five C's. A loss for St. Aidan's and a win for Broad Street would tie up the league once again.

Weller's and Spencer's should provide a very spirited tussle at Beacon Hill. These teams are very evenly matched and are traveling at a lively clip at present.

Broad Street will be represented to-morrow by the following players: P. Richardson, W. Cowan, D. Fletcher, F. Ackroyd, Donaldson, S. Ferris, A. W. Barber, J. Wormaid, P. Hole, Silburn and G. Freeman.

Spencers will take the field as follows: F. Smith, C. Locke, W. Farrar, W. Maynard, J. Thorne, C. Jellinan, F. Payne, G. Lifton, G. Gibson, E. E. Westcott and F. G. Harper.

Wellers' eleven will be as follows: C. P. Askey, T. H. Knapman, P. Johnson, S. Kirkham, J. Hall, T. Baker, R. Livingstone, C. Hilton, R. Bramley, B. Hall, A. N. Other.

AUDREY GRIFFIN BEST THROWING FREE SHOTS

The result of throwing basketball goals in connection with the V.I.A.A. delcathlon for ladies, held over the week-end, resulted as follows: First, Miss Audrey Griffin; second, Miss Florrie Gates; third, Mrs. W. H. Davies.

The second round of the tennis series will be held this evening, the contestants represent the winners in the preliminary round which was staged last Friday. The draw for this evening is as follows:

Miss Florrie Gates vs. Minnie Fanthorpe.

Audrey Griffin vs. Leo Dalziel.

Frances Bayley vs. Phyllis Gates.

Mrs. W. H. Davies vs. Mrs. Murray.

The first game will be held at 7.30 sharp.

TENNIS STARS WIN IN OPENING ROUND

Indianapolis, Ind., July 4.—William T. Tilden II., of Philadelphia, Zenso Shimidsu, Japanese, and Charles Garland, Jr., Pittsburgh, numbers 1, 2 and 3 respectively, in the seeded draw, all won their first round matches in the opening play of the men's senior national clay court tennis championship at the Woodstock Country Club here yesterday.

Tilden defeated M. B. Hutchinson, St. Louis, and Garland defeated J. C. Daugherty, Indianapolis, 6-0, 6-2.

R. A. Holden, Jr., Cincinnati, No. 4 in the draw, was defaulted to by Edward Hupt, Cincinnati.

John Hennessy, Fritz Bastian and Ralph Burdick, Indianapolis, were the other three players seeded in the draw.

'FRISCO PLAYERS TO PLAY FOR NET TITLE

Los Angeles, July 4.—The Pacific Coast doubles tennis championship will remain in San Francisco. That was made certain in the semi-finals of the tournament here yesterday, when both San Francisco teams, consisting of the Kinsey brothers—Bob and Howard—the present champions, and Clarence J. (Peck) Griffin and William Johnston, formerly national champions, defeated the Los Angeles challenger. Griffin and Johnston beat Tom Ferrandini and Miles Reinke in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, and the Kinsey brothers defeated Nat Browne and Clarence Barber in a four-set match, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

MISKE KAYOES MEEHAN FOR THE FIRST TIME

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 4.—Billy Miske, of St. Paul, knocked out Willie Meehan, of San Francisco, in the first round of a scheduled ten round bout here last night. It took just two minutes and 40 seconds for the St. Paul heavyweight to level the San Francisco scrapper, who had never before been counted out and who holds the record of two decisions over Dempsey in three encounters before Dempsey won the title from Jess Willard.

ZBYSZKO FAILS TO REGAIN WRESTLING TITLE FROM LEWIS

Tulsa, Okla., July 4.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis retained the title of world's heavyweight wrestling champion here last night by defeating Stanislaus Zbyszko, the veteran Pole. Lewis won one fall in an hour and 25 minutes and neither man was able to pin the other in the 35 minutes remaining of the two hours it had been agreed to wrestle.

ROYALS WIN EASILY.

Last night at the Central Park, the Royals trimmed the Mets to the tune of 18 to 8. Storck, who pitched his first game for the Royals, made a creditable showing and was given good support in the field. The batteries: Mets, Holman, Kay and Bently; Royals, Storck and Thoburn.

CANADIAN ELEVEN WINS.

Toronto, July 4.—The first game of the cricket week which is being held here ended Saturday in the defeat of a representative Toronto team by Norman Seagram's eleven by 38 runs.

FOUGHT TO A DRAW.

Beatrice—"He hasn't any qualifications, has he?"

Bob—"Yes, indeed! A friend has just died and left him a fur-lined overcoat."

HAS BEEN BOTH SOLDIER AND SAILOR OF GOOD FORTUNE

Terence Rooney Brings to Victoria Romance of Life in War and Adventure

Veteran of three wars, steeplejack and adventurer, Terence Rooney arrived in Victoria yesterday. Terence is a true wanderer, who has adventured wherever the chance offered, sailed the seven seas and sought out the uncommon callings when the pressure of economics rendered it necessary to get down to work on land.

His biography reads like a novel, and his tales support a record which would fascinate the least romantic stay-at-home.

He began life in New York, but when two years of age was taken to the Old Country, and at 16 went to sea. On the schooner the captain went mad and killed the cook one day, for which the crew rose in their wrath and took over the ship. They drifted to Mauritius, where Rooney got a job with the native police. Getting tired of the routine he shipped to Australia, where sundry adventures befell him in the gold diggings and sheep stations.

Having first seen service in the Boer War, Rooney was ready for adventure in the Russo-Japanese war. Here some of his acts led the Russians to have a distinct wish to remove him to Siberia, but luck would have it when he was eventually captured by a cruiser he was detained as a prisoner, and was released after the treaty of Portsmouth.

Then he shipped again as an A.B. on Chinese boats, traveling in every kind of craft on the Oriental seas, until in 1910 he turned up in America as a steeplejack.

Various occupations engaged Rooney until the outbreak of the Great War. He had so many wounds that he failed to be accepted for a Canadian contingent, but crossed to Egypt with the Australians, and was a regimental sergeant-major with the second Anzac division through the horrors of the Gallipoli attack. Later he came to the United States, and held an appointment with the American troops as deputy U. S. marshal at Camp Funston, Kansas. In January, 1921, he was struck by a street car on Market Street, San Francisco, and spent some time in the Harbor casualty hospital there.

During the last eighteen months he has been engaged in various occupations on the Pacific Coast, and now finds himself renewing acquaintance with old friends in this city.

ESQUIMALT ENDS HOPE OF MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE

Lacking the presentation of a petition which would request them to negotiate further with a view to the acquisition of a municipal golf course, the Esquimalt Council last night voted to drop the whole matter, with Reeve Lockley alone in dissent of this action.

The offer of the Hudson's Bay Company to give the municipality a course ready made, rent free in lieu of taxes for the remainder of the year was dealt with in a letter from one of the municipal solicitors, G. H. Sedger.

Mr. Sedger stated that if the Council were indemnified from a responsible source for any loss that might occur through the municipal operation of the links, it might proceed.

No Petition—No Golf.

As neither petition, nor sponsoring of costs were forthcoming, the golf project was shelved indefinitely. Reeve Lockley, in asking to be recorded in dissent, stated that the district was losing the best opportunity of the year, and that this plan would have given Esquimalt municipal links, tennis courts and bowling greens in a manner not to be so readily obtained in the future.

Gorge Bridge Safe.

A report from Provincial Bridge Superintendent Kilpatrick notified the Council that the Gorge Bridge was in a good state of repair, and that with adequate maintenance and some paint would be good for many years yet. The engineer advised the following loads as maximum: Heavy trucks, up to 4 tons, or a crowd of 100 person if dispersed at some intervals, and not concentrated.

The official will be thanked, and the report referred to the municipal engineer, Mr. Bourne, for action. Saanich will be asked to co-operate in the upkeep of the bridge, it was intimated.

Wanted Money Back.

A letter from Father Silver, of the St. Joseph's Church at Esquimalt, took exception to the opinions of a municipal solicitor, in the person of G. H. Sedger, on the church taxation findings, and asked for a revision of the decision of the Council. The Council had refunded the 1919 taxes on the church, but refused to refund the 1916 taxes, the latter not paid under compulsion, it held. The solicitor will be asked to review the matter.

In a letter from the Medical Health Officer, Dr. McCallum, pointed out that slaughter of oxen was being carried on in the district in contravention of the by-law and provincial statute. He suggested that either the by-law be amended, or that slaughter be permitted, but restricted under supervision by way of an abattoir.

Offal Blocked Sewer.

In one case a sewer had become blocked with the offal from a slaughter house, alleged the report, which pointed to the unsanitary conditions of such a state of affairs.

Councillor Pomeroy suggested bringing in an amending by-law at once, but secured no seconder. A motion from Councillor Mesher to refer the matter to the Health Committee was carried.

Migration Within the Empire

By F. C. Wade, K.C., Agent-General for B.C., Before the Canadian Club, London, England

Migration, we are told, has been the practical reply through all the ages to the command "multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it."

The history of the world has largely been a history of the migration of its people. The wars of the world have largely been struggles for territorial aggrandizement—for "a place in the sun." Especially is this true of the last and greatest war. If Great Britain had stood aside while Germany laid covetous hands on Brazil, ~~would there have been a war? If she~~ had had her will in Canada we would now be doing the goosestep and watching German efficiency populate the country and develop our vast resources.

The war is over and the Empire has been saved, but not the people. Conditions still prevail that are almost as bad as war. In endeavoring to support 618 persons to the square mile as against less than two in Canada and Australia, England and Wales are attempting the impossible. As the Bishop of London said in the earlier years of the war Great Britain lost more babies than men. One hundred thousand babies die there annually under one year old. It is estimated that 1,000,000 pre-natal deaths occur each year. Two hundred thousand children die annually between the ages of 12 months and 14 years. And this is an empire that boasts an area of 14,272,000 square miles. Had the parents of these hundreds of thousands of children emigrated to the open spaces of the Dominions there would be but a fraction of this waste of life. Surely there can be no doubt that the redistribution of the population of the Empire by migration within its limits is the one outstanding and dominating need of the day.

What is one man's meat is another man's poison. Just as urgently as the mother country needs room to expand, the Dominions need settlers to develop their resources. Contemplate for a moment a comparison between our population and resources, and you will see in what we fall short. Canada has only .5 per cent of the population of the world. She produces: 90 per cent of its cobalt, 88 per cent of its asbestos, 85 per cent of its nickel, 32 per cent of its pulpwood, 20 per cent of its lumber, 20 per cent of its cured fish, 18 per cent of its oats, 15 per cent of its potatoes, 12 per cent of its silver, 11½ per cent of its wheat, 11 per cent of its barley, 4 per cent of its gold, 4 per cent of its copper, and yet there are those who will say, "For Heaven's sake! bring us in no more people; we already have too many; we have one half of one per cent of the world's population to develop a very considerable proportion of all the natural resources which the earth contains."

B. C.'s Wealth.

To no part of Canada does the necessity of increased immigration appeal more forcibly than to British Columbia where the basic products of industry are to be found in such wealth and profusion. Here we have 75 billion metric tons of coal, 165 million acres of forest, estimated high grade iron ore in sight of 14,000,000 tons, with a possible 40,000,000 tons, and an estimated water power possibility of 3,000,000 horse power. All these great resources with a thousand others lie ready to hand awaiting only population and capital to convert them to the use of the world at large, and replace the present anaemic condition with one of full-blooded prosperity.

De we need immigrants? The less than 2,000,000 who emigrated to Australia cost an average of £20 per head. They and their descendants have made Australia worth two thousand million pounds in less than 50 years. Forty years ago our own Northwest was a barren waste. Now it is one of the granaries of the world. In three years Canada has fed herself and sent abroad vegetable products worth one billion nine hundred million dollars, and in food products six hundred and sixty million. Do we need immigration? It is the only form of investment that pays 100 per cent. Why do we hesitate to make 100 per cent at the moment when the Imperial Government offers to put up 50 per cent to help us make the investment?

More Men Wanted.

Was there ever a time when Canada needed more broad shoulders to help bear the load she carries than at present? During the war 500,000 of our men in the prime of life were withdrawn from productive occupation for three years, a loss to Canada of one and a half billion dollars, even if their output capacity were only $1,000 a year. The 50,000 who were killed had a life expectancy of 35 years, which brings the war reduction of wealth to three billion dollars. Add to this the reduction in the powers of those who remain, the decrease of birth rate for five years of war, and the almost complete cessation of British immigration for the same period. Add our colossal national debt of two billion three hundred million dollars, to say nothing of our increased provincial and municipal debts. What is the position? Less than nine million men, women and children in Canada are condemned to the task of making up five billion dollars in losses, or over seven hundred dollars for every man, woman and child born and unborn for generations to come, besides shouldering the task of developing a country larger than the United States and as big as Europe. Is this a prospect that can be contemplated with complacency? Is it time for indifference? Are we to relapse into a condition of slavery and bondage, or will the Parliament of Canada take immediate steps to bring in population and capital for the development of the resources by which alone our obligations can be met and discharged?

The policy of laissez faire has long been the curse of the British world. For 20 years before the war more Britishers emigrated to foreign countries than migrated within the Empire. One half of British capital is invested under foreign flags. Since the Great War 50,000 British ex-service men have emigrated to the United States and Argentina. Had they come here they could have taken the places of our splendid men who gave their lives for the Empire. In a 100 years 8,500,000 Britishers settled in the United States, and there are 2,500,000 British born there at the present time. Had it not been for laissez faire Canada's population would now be 50,000,000 or at least 25,000,000, where it is less than 9,000,000.

The New Measure.

Fortunately it is just at this juncture that the Imperial Parliament has passed the Empire Settlement Act, by which Great Britain offers to share half the cost of the redistribution of the population of the Empire. This is the legislation which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Deakin of Australia asked for during the Imperial Conferences only to be assured on more than one occasion that "votes of Imperial money for emigration purposes were opposed to the settled policy of Parliament." Since then the Great War has demonstrated that a British subject is just as good a Britisher in Melbourne, Vancouver, Capetown or Auckland as he is in Yorkshire or Sussex, and the policy has been changed. By the Imperial Settlement Act just passed Great Britain offers to expend seven million dollars annually for fifteen years in carrying out the great task of redistributing the population of the Empire. What is Canada doing to take advantage of this magnificent offer? We know what Australia is doing. South Australia the other day advertised for 6,000 English boys between 14 and 18 for settlement purposes and received 14,000 applications in less than a week. Several ship loads have already set sail and Sir Henry Barwell tells me finer boys were never seen. The Premier of Western Australia is asking for 7,500 selected settlers and is experiencing no difficulty in obtaining them. A greater triumph of organization to take advantage of the Imperial Settlement Act than that which the Commonwealth and all its Provinces have set up could not well be imagined. What is Canada doing? The Prime Minister favors a vigorous immigration policy. Let us hope that it will soon take shape and become the set purpose of the Canadian people.

Outside Sources.

There are other and even greater reasons why you must endeavor with all speed to fill British Columbia with British and Canadian stock. Every ten years the population of the great country to the south of us increases more than the whole present population of Canada. Every year her territory is filling up, and her population has long since begun to overflow. She, too, will soon be looking for a place in the sun. Her wealth is already flowing into Canada more freely than her surplus people. Oregon and Washington ceased to be British through the same kind of peaceful penetration and occupation which is now taking place in Canada. I am not complaining or finding fault but simply pointing to natural conditions. There is also the Oriental menace. Some one has said that the day may come when an observer on the crest of the Selkirks will see an Oriental population stretching to the coast, swarming on our shores and filling our beautiful valleys. Some see further than others, and with greater clarity. I was asked the other day if I could suggest a formula that would prevent the onrush of Orientalism into British Columbia. Would it be fair to propose that one Oriental be admitted to Canada for every Canadian asking and receiving admission to the countries of the Orient? Perhaps more than a formula is necessary to meet the situation. Australia knows where she stands and leaves no doubt as to her attitude. There is talk of appointing a Canadian Ambassador to Washington. His first step should be to take up this whole question with the United States Government. This is one matter in which our interests are the same, and we must stand together.

Robust Settlers.

Where are we to turn for robust and satisfactory settlers, if not to Great Britain? Has not Canada been built up with British stock? After the battle of the Plains of Abraham the Scots Greys were settled in Nova Scotia, and became the backbone of the country. Following upon the American Revolution 40,000 United Loyalists suffering untold hardships and facing death itself crossed the international boundary, threaded our forests and occupied our open spaces. Ten thousand took up farms and laid the foundations of agriculture in the Eastern Townships of Quebec. Twenty-seven townships of Upper Canada were occupied by British loyalists and converted into prosperous farms. Many thousands securely laid the foundations of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. After the wars of 1812-15 disbanded regiments became the pioneer farmers of the Ottawa Valley. Has it ever been suggested that they, or any of them, were of an inferior breed? Have we ever known better stock? Are there any greater features in the character of the American than those which he is proud to trace to his British origin? What is greater in Australia, in New Zealand, in South Africa than British steadfastness, British integrity and British courage? The British settler has his peculiarities it is true. But so has the Canadian, and so has the Australian. The downfall of Britain, the great stabilizing and effective force for the reconstruction of this shattered world today is the hope of Bolshevism. Let us not be misled. Let us cease to tolerate cheap and tawdry talk at the expense of our mother country. We Canadians are almost more British than the British. Let us not foul our own nest.

WAGE CUT IN DAY LABOR SUGGESTED

Esquimalt Declines to Deal With Question This Year

Towards the close of the evening Councillor Mesher threw a bombshell into the Esquimalt Council meeting last evening by moving that the wage of day laborers in the employ of the municipality should be cut to $4 even a day. The City of Victoria, once paying $4.40 now pays $4, and Saanich $3.20, it was said.

Councillor Bridle took exception to any cut in a day labor scale without similar cuts in the other departments, including the office staff.

Reeve Lockley held that the staff at the hall were being paid lower than any other municipal staff in the Province, and could not be further reduced in fairness.

A Fair Wage

Councillor Mesher pointed out that, as chairman of the Works committee he was dealing with his department alone, that was the labor scale, and considered $4 a day a very fair wage. It was higher than was being paid by local foundries now, he said.

For 1923 Council

Councillor Pomeroy suggested that the wage cut be left over for the Council of 1923 to decide, and this action was taken, being readily agreed on by the majority members of the body. In closing the matter Reeve Lockley pointed out that the situation was a delicate one, and that anyway no notice of motion had been given by Councillor Mesher.
